McAdoo Scores Coolidge Message; Derides His Railroad Proposal

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—President Coolidge's message to Congress was called "a counsel of despondency" and his opposition to a bonus for ex-service men characterized as a "summary dismissal of just claims for consideration in an address by William Gibbs McAdoo before the Democratic Luncheon Club and Women's Democratic League here today."

The former director-general of railroads derided the president's proposal for a voluntary consolidation of the systems of transportation as "seven-year itch" for railroad freight and passenger rates with no assurance of relief at the end of the trial, telling his hearers, "that what is needed is not seven years of delay, but action."

"The president's message," said Mr. McAdoo in part, "is largely a counsel of despondency. Nowhere is there the stimulating call of progress. The world is in commotion and vital domestic problems press upon us for solution, but no effective program is set forth for alleviation or correction of domestic ills, nor is encouragement given for invigorating international policies which will re-open world markets for our surplus products, tend to promote economic stability or encourage peace and tranquility between nations."

The most affirmative part of the president's message is the recommendation of tax reduction. "The country favors tax reduction," the Democratic party has stood consistently for it since the signing of the constitution and should cooperate in any effort to ease the tax burden. This effort should be directed not alone to a reduction in the sum of taxation but to an equitable distribution of the burden, the president's endorsement of the attempt to put a lighter tax on the shoulders of the few, and the removal of the sweat of the brow and the sweat of the brain, than upon the shoulders of the many."

Ford Delegates Still Hunting Place To Meet

DETROIT, MICH., December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The formal convention at which friends and admirers of Henry Ford propose to elect his successor to the presidential ring will be held in St. Louis or Chicago probably next month. The date probably will be decided upon today at an informal meeting of a small group of men and women who came here expecting to attend a conference of delegates from all parts of the country only to find that Henry Ford had vetoed the plan.

Temporary headquarters of the Ford-for-President movement were opened in a downtown hotel yesterday with Robert H. Poirer, of Dearborn, one of those who signed the call for the original conference, in command.

Mr. Poirer is quoted as declaring that if Henry Ford declines to accept nomination by a third party, its organization would proceed and another man would be chosen to lead it.

The statement was made in connection with reports that a convention of Ford-for-President supporters would find itself divided between those favoring the Detroit manufacturer as a Democratic candidate for president and those believing his success could be assured only on an Independent ticket.

To Require Years To Restore Relics

NEW YORK, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—It will require years to restore accurately for later archaeological study and public preservation the relics found in the tomb of King Tutankhamun in the Egyptian Valley of the Kings, says the current bulletin of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

The fragile condition of the aged relics and vestments made impossible their repair or even handling. Three weeks was required to unpack one small box to enable experts to note the general appearance of its objects and the schemes of decoration so that copies could be made and the original gold and jeweled decorations placed with accuracy.

Wooden parts of chariots, buried with the king were in good condition, but the leather harness had been reduced to powder. One robe was decorated with 50,000 beads which must be sewed one by one to get a copy. Relics of ancient sandals must be made and covered with gold tracings.

Married Fifty Years; Kills His Wife

MOSCOW, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—After living with his wife for more than fifty years, Ivan Yashinkin, a rich peasant, of the Tver Province, killed her because she refused to make him an omelet. Yashinkin was sentenced to six years in prison, but the Supreme Court has ordered a review of his case.

Dance Ends In Shooting Of Three

LOUISVILLE, KY., December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—John George 26, insurance agent, shot and probably fatally wounded his wife, fatally wounded Eugene Coats, 17, Mrs. George's dancing partner, and killed himself at a dance in the home of his mother-in-law here a few minutes after midnight today.

That George was crazed with jealousy because his wife had refused a dance with him, was dancing with Coats, was the theory advanced by investigators who sought a motive for his act.

"I had been expecting this," he had threatened it before," Mrs. George was quoted as having declared after she and Coats had been taken to a hospital. Coats died soon after his removal to the hospital.

Mrs. George's mother, at whose home the dance was held, said George apparently was in a happy mood early in the evening. Later, however, he became angered when he saw Mrs. George and Coats dancing together, after his wife had refused a dance with him. He left the house, but returned a short time later, when he called his wife into the front yard and shot her. George was said by witnesses there to have entered the house, snatched out and shot Coats and fired twice at other dancers. He then shot himself, dying instantly.

Shaw Agrees To Cut Play

NEW YORK, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—At last George Bernard Shaw has submitted to having one of his plays cut, but he has done the parting himself. He has been furnished to the Theatre Guild a revised script for "Saint Joan" and it now can be played in time for suburbanites to catch their last trains. The cuts were made effective in rehearsals today.

Never before in his forty years as a playwright has Mr. Shaw presented a producer with a revised manuscript.

The Guild called Mr. Shaw when rehearsals first began that many would miss the climax in the play in the rush for their trains.

"Change the railroad schedules," the dramatist cabled back.

"Railroads obliterate. We throw ourselves on your mercy," the Guild replied.

And this brought the answer, "Sending revised script."

NOGALES, ARIZ., December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The revolutionary movement on the west coast of Mexico has attained great proportions, according to advices received here today, and has spread to Mazatlan, Sinaloa, where the garrison is divided.

A report that several revolutionary generals were executed following a skirmish in Sinaloa is being investigated here.

The Twenty-Seventh Regiment at Mazatlan revolted and disbanded the Seventeenth Regiment, under the command of Colonel Rereca Flores, according to reports which were verified by travelers who arrived today from Mazatlan. The disarmament was accomplished without bloodshed.

Marching Near Border
EL PASO, TEXAS, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Interest along the Mexican border incident to the uprising, against the government of President Obregon, centers about news from Nogales, Ariz., that more than 2,000 armed insurgents are marching from Tepic, west coast town, now in the hands of the rebels, to take the states of Sinaloa and Sonora. A general conflagration over the Mexican west coast is feared in view of the insurgents' rapid advance.

The international line runs between Sonora and New Mexico and for a short distance, Sonora also (Continued on Page Eight)

To Introduce "Equal Rights" Bill in Senate

WASHINGTON, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Representative Anthony, Republican, Kansas, announced today he expects to introduce in the House the "equal rights" amendment to the United States constitution before the Senate Monday by Senator Curtis of his state. The measure is sponsored by the National Woman's Party.

Numerous proposed amendments to the Constitution already are before the Senate. They are: Calling for restriction of child labor; children born of alien parents in the United States not to be considered citizens; the right of Congress to enact uniform marriage and divorce laws; to have the inauguration of the President advanced to the third Monday in January, and to have the date set at January 24.

Sale and manufacture of beer containing not more than five per cent of alcohol, and the levying of taxes upon it with which to pay adjusted compensation for world war veterans.

To prohibit the issue of tax-exempt securities.

Election of the President and Vice President on popular vote, the nominee receiving the largest vote of all cast throughout the nation to be declared President.

To give Congress power to regulate the nomination and election of its Senators and Representatives and to regulate the expenditures of candidates for nomination to these offices.

Fall To Testify

WASHINGTON, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—With former Secretary Albert B. Fall, of the Interior Department, here to testify, the Senate Public Lands Committee today resumed its investigation of the leasing of Naval Oil Reserves. Mr. Fall was one of the first witnesses when the inquiry was started two months ago, but he came to Washington at this time from his ranch in New Mexico, to testify a second time at the invitation of the committee which recently offered him an opportunity to be heard in rebuttal to recent testimony by other witnesses.

In addition to Mr. Fall, various employees of Harry F. Sinclair's farm in Jersey, were expected to be present. The oil magnate, when before the committee last week, tried to produce these employees and the books of the property to furnish data to the committee relating to the sales of livestock from the farm in the spring of 1922.

Propose Reappraisal Of Ohio Real Estate

COLUMBUS, O., December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Re-appraisal of real estate throughout the state will be proposed to the convention of the County Auditors' Association of Ohio here today by John A. Zangeneh, Columbus, county auditor, he indicated this morning.

New officers of the association are: T. B. Radabaugh, Miami County, president; Miss Ruth Kauffman, Stark County, vice president; A. B. Peckinpaugh, Columbus, chief of the state inspection department, secretary, and Harry G. Gaskill, Clinton County, treasurer.

Where Game Will Be Held He Won!

This shows the gold piano in the White House, according to advices from Washington, a game of solitaire will be played between Mrs. Coolidge, wife of the president, and Frank G. Hall, of Sanbornville, N. H. When President Harding was elected, Hall predicted to Mrs. Coolidge she would some day be the "first lady of the land." She replied, "If I am 171, I'll teach you how to play solitaire on the gold piano of the White House." Now she insists upon paying the forfeit.

Counterfeit Money Poured Into Chicago

CHICAGO, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Counterfeit money estimated at between $500,000 and $1,000,000 is being circulated in Chicago, according to reports to Captain Thomas J. Porter, chief of the government secret service here. The spurious bills are being reported at the rate of several hundred daily and additional investigators have been brought here to assist in tracing the source.

All the bills have been of the $10 denomination of the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank, series 7-6, bearing a picture of Andrew Jackson. The reverse side is either a lighter or darker shade of green than the genuine, but the work of the counterfeiters has been expert and the difference is difficult to note, according to the government agents. Under the seal on the face of the notes are the numbers 2-23.

Although two arrests have been made, one in St. Louis, one in Peoria, and one in St. Paul, officers have been unable to trace the fake bills to their origin.

According to Captain Porter, all the persons in custody have refused to tell the exact source of the money.

Elections Paramount Influence In World

WASHINGTON, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Elections in Great Britain just held, in France to be held next month, and in the United States next autumn, are the paramount influences in the world situation today.

The desire of all parties seeking either a continuance in office or the overthrow of existing administrations is to bring about an economic stability that will appeal to peoples everywhere.

France on the eve of a general election is showing a more flexible attitude in relations with the United States. America, anxious to steer a course that will not mean political entanglement yet will mean a better price for the farmers' wheat and a development of the present wave of prosperity is on the alert for an opportunity to help Europe in a settlement of the reparations problem.

Flagship Huron To Go To Hong Kong

MANILA, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The flagship Huron, of the American Asiatic fleet, was preparing today to depart for Hong Kong tomorrow in connection with the situation at Canton, where Sun Yat Sen, South China leader, recently threatened to seize the customs house. Five American destroyers sailed for Hong Kong yesterday.

It is understood warships of the various powers will keep close watch of the Canton developments and will prevent Sun from carrying out his threat of taking over the customs revenues, a portion of which is pledged by the Chinese government toward the payment of interest and principal on foreign loans.

Delegate Strength On The Old Basis

WASHINGTON, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Cleveland was formally selected today as the 1924 convention city of the Republicans. The date of the convention was fixed as June 16.

Choice of the Ohio city, virtually certain since the Coolidge campaign managers indicated their preference for it, was made final at a meeting of the Republican National Committee.

The vote for the convention city was: Cleveland, 39; San Francisco, 10; Des Moines, 1. Then on motion of Congressman Crocker, of California, the selection of Cleveland was made unanimous.

The delegates' strength will be apportioned virtually on the old time basis of full representation for the south as well as the north.

A carefully drafted plan to curtail the voting power of those southern states which belong to the Democratic solid south was overturned today by the National Committee just before selection of the time and place for the convention had been made final.

In 1921, the re-apportionment program had been given the approval of the committee and the reversal was voted today over the protests of those who declared a reconsideration would be interpreted by the country as an effort to improve the delegate strength of states likely to cast their vote for President Coolidge.

Equal Status For Women

The committee also decided to recommend to the 1924 convention that women be given an equal status with men as committee members and that one man and one woman from each state be chosen to serve on a basis of parity as National Committeemen.

Selection of Cleveland as the convention city had been virtually certain since a preference for it was expressed by the managers of the Coolidge campaign. Chicago, previously considered a likely choice, had withdrawn when the desires of the Coolidge men became known and only nominal efforts were made on behalf of Des Moines and of San Francisco, the home of Senator (Continued On Page Thirteen)

Break In Senate; Deadlock Continues

WASHINGTON, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Although there was a break in the ranks of the supporters of Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, the Republican insurgent leader, the Senate remained in deadlock today on the first ballot for the election of a change mittie.

Sensors Cummins, Republican, Iowa, and Smith, Democrat, who were tied at 40 votes each, while LaFollette received three, Senators Brookhart, Iowa, and Frazier, North Dakota, Republicans, and Shipstead and Johnson, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, voted for Smith, but there also was a break in the Democratic ranks with Senator Bruce, of Maryland, voting for Cummins.

Sensors Howell and Norris, Nebraska, and Ladd, North Dakota, Republicans, voted for LaFollette.

On the second ballot Smith fell only one short of the election, receiving 41 votes to 39 for Cummins and two for LaFollette; Bruce continued to vote for Cummins, while LaFollette, North Dakota, joined the insurgent group, voting for Smith.

On the third ballot the vote was: Smith, 41; Cummins, 40, and LaFollette, 2.

Sensors Norris and Howell continued to vote for LaFollette, and Bruce for Cummins.

After the third ballot adjournment was taken until noon Saturday, but balloting will not be resumed until next Monday.

Cuneo Found Dead In Room

WASHINGTON, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Sherman A. Cuneo, director of publicity for a prohibition unit and a personal friend of the late President Harding, was found dead today in his apartment here. Monoxide gas from a small coal heater apparently was the cause of his death. He formerly was an Ohio newspaper man.

Hammer Brigade Continues To Make Merry Music, Thomas Singing "Water Works Blues"

Reports of disappointment over Mayor-elect Calvert's list of officeholders in Republican circles continue to grow in volume, and the Hammer brigade continues to make music that it hopes will make the incoming mayor wish he had no ears to hear or to burn.

Hon. Daniel Thomas, hero of many hard-fought battles, straightened up the straight brigade, is reported to have taken leadership of the gloomers. Mr. Thomas would have enjoyed the job now held by John Ryan. He had been viewing this particular job with fond and loving eye ever since Calvert's run, and they agreed to let him have it. The new mayor has decided the job is an argument and wants to abolish it. It is enough to make a patriot mad, we'll say, and Daniel is entitled to sympathy by the barrel.

But, listen, they do say that the Republican organization leaders are not happy. This bunch begged Calvert to run, and they agreed to his statement that if he ran and was elected he should have a free hand in his appointments. Of course, their tongues were in their cheeks when they said amen, for they thought Ralph was like all the rest and would remember the fair-haired boys when the time came. The trouble was, however, Ralph meant just what he said, and he acted according to his understanding of the pre-nomination agreement. The organization brigade met and prepared a nice slate for Calvert to O. K., but that was as far as they got. Calvert consulted, listened and then made his own selections. And the organization slate is still intact, but outside the breastworks.

And Mr. "Chuck" Ziegler, loud, fast, and full of oysters, is not happy either. The cause of his dejection is a tale for another day.

Evans present address unknown, when she married in January 1922. Plaintiff in her petition filed through Attorney Campbell and Higgins, complains that during the time they lived together Davis treated her with cold indifference, refused to associate with her on public places, and that he had habitually cursed and abused her, accused her of lack of chastity and neglected her, and that she, besides, had refused to support her, besides, she claims, he abandoned her in less than a month after their marriage.

Seeks Big Damages
Mrs. Arthur G. Stevens, South Webster, and Harry A. Schmitt, of this city, are made defendants in a suit for $2,000 damages for alleged negligence instituted in common pleas court Wednesday by David Parker, suing through attorney Theo K. Funk.

In his petition Parker says that on May 10, 1923, he was engaged in hauling railroad ties, and while so engaged fell from the wagon which he was pulling. The fall injured his left arm at the elbow. He then claims that he employed the defendants to set the dislocation and then complains that they failed in their endeavor to heal the injury, declaring that as a result of their unskilled, negligent and unprofessional treatment his arm was permitted to remain out of place until it became impossible to set and cure the injury to his damage in the amount claimed.

Suit Settled
When the suit of Dr. E. O. McCull against Dolie Burke was called for trial in common pleas court Wednesday morning Judge Thomas was advised that the parties had effected a settlement and the petit jury was excused until Thursday morning, when the personal injury damage suit of Mark Noel against Elva Konnis is as signed for hearing.

Mrs. Noel sued for $10,000 damages for personal injuries she claims to have sustained on January 26 last, when she was knocked from the step of a grocery wagon in front of her home on Seelye street when it was alleged to have been driven by Elva Konnis. The wagon, owned by Plaintiff and Attorney R. P. Kimble for defendant.

Robertson Denies Guilt
When A. P. Robertson, 35, railroad yardman, appeared before Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Wednesday morning he pleaded not guilty to two counts of an indictment charging him with rape upon Edna Chellens, 12 year old New Boston girl, and he was required to give $750 bond for his appearance when wanted for trial. The accused will be defended by Attorney L. A. Thompson.

Evans Given Jail Sentence
William Evans, negro, indicted for cutting with intent to kill, was sentenced to jail for thirty days by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Wednesday when he was permitted to plead guilty to the lesser offense of assault and battery.

Evans was accused of slashing his sweetheart with a knife early last July, and when brought to trial recently the jury found him guilty. In passing sentence Judge Thomas took into consideration that Evans had served 145 days in jail and he was given credit for the time he has been in prison. The defendant was represented by Attorney Theo. K. Funk.

What about keeping home labor busy, anyway?

When enough people invest enough savings in our institution, we lend that money for home building.

That gives employment to teamsters and brick masons, carpenters, plumbers, painters and electricians and to a whole lot of other people.

That money is spent right here in this town and vicinity.

MARION ATTORNEY WILL PROBABLY MANAGE COOLIDGE'S OHIO CAMPAIGN

CLEVELAND, Dec. 12.—Hoke Donithen, prominent Marion attorney, probably will manage President Coolidge's campaign in Ohio, according to reports in circulation among Ohio Republicans in Washington today, says a special dispatch to the Cleveland Plain Dealer from its Washington staff correspondent. Mr. Donithen was a manager for the late President Harding in his early state campaigns and in 1920 was a Harding delegate to the Chicago convention from the Marion district.

There also has been talk of other possibilities, the dispatch states. Walter F. Brown of Toledo, W. E. Bailey of Columbus and Carmel A. Thompson of Cleveland, also were discussed, but according to the dispatch, it is doubtful whether Thompson would have the responsibility. It is understood neither President Coolidge nor the Coolidge leaders in Washington desire to take a hand in the selection, the dispatch continues, which puts it up to the Republican leaders of this state to get together on the proposition.

Congratulates Ladies' Musicales

The Ironton Register says: Miss Faye Ferguson acquitted herself marvelously at Portsmouth. The great auditorium thundered with applause, and although there were one hundred Ironton people in the audience there was no floral tribute, aside from a remembrance from a friend. Ironton people should have had a beautiful tribute. The Ladies' Musicales of Portsmouth is to be congratulated upon the character of the entertainments given Portsmouth people. The concert Monday evening was a treat to music lovers.

Sells Property

Felix Haus has sold his property at 3811 Fifth street, to Henry Seidel, who is employed by Sommer Bros. The deal was closed by the Bierley Realty Company.

Gas Co. Denied Right To Boost Rate

The Ironton Register Tuesday said:

Another gas victory for the people! The citizens of Ashland, Russell, Catlettsburg, Louisa and other towns won a great victory in Kentucky Tuesday, when the State Railroad Commission at Frankfort handed down a decision denying the United Fuel Gas Co. and its alleged subsidiary company, The Warfield Gas Co., the right to increase the price of natural gas from 27 to 45 cents per thousand feet.

The decision was one of the most sweeping ever handed down by the Kentucky board as it also denied the request of the Gas Co. for permission to quit serving gas to the people of the towns affected, holding that if it withdrew from one town it must withdraw from every town in the state. The Railroad Board also held that the organization of the Warfield Co. was but a scheme on the part of the United Fuel Gas Co. to evade the provisions of the law. For the past thirteen months the Gas Co. has been charging the residents of Ashland, Russell and the residents of other towns 31c per thousand feet, and the Railroad commission orders that this additional 4c per thousand be refunded to the people who paid it. The amount thus refunded will aggregate $100,000.

Thus it is seen that poor old Ironton has been "gassed" to death by her own spineless citizens. Huntington wins a 21c rate, Ashland and Russell a 27c rate, but Ironton will continue paying 40, 50 and maybe 75c for her gas. When will our citizens cease to be selfish and fight for their rights like men?

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for instilling up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Ralph Calvert proved to be a very charming hostess on Tuesday afternoon when she entertained the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge Club at her home on Second street. Mary Alene Calvert, attractive young daughter of the hostess, assisted in receiving the guests, who enjoyed the afternoon playing bridge, after which prizes for high and low score were presented to Mrs. J. W. Hutchins and Mrs. Harry Denton. At six o'clock a beautifully appointed refreshment course was served at the small tables, which were centered with red tapers, in keeping with the Christmas season.

All members of the club were present including Mrs. E. C. Tucker, Mrs. J. T. McCormick, Mrs. Harry Denton, Mrs. Howard Kelsner, Mrs. George Patton, Mrs. J. W. Hutchins, Mrs. Albert Dressler, Mrs. Maurice Strayer, Mrs. Winifred Bennett, Mrs. Arthur Knowles, Mrs. James Yeley, and the hostess.

Mrs. Harry Denton of Sixth Street, will receive the members in two weeks for a passing party.

Fifty ladies attended the meeting of the W. H. M. S. and W. F. M. S. of Manly Church, held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. F. Stewart on Mound Street.

Mrs. William Bierly presided and the devotional were led by Mrs. Mary Matz of Nebraska, guest of Mrs. Stewart. The review of the chapter in the Text Book was given by Mrs. Herbert Boring, after which a vocal solo was sung by Mrs. George Moore, who was accompanied by Mrs. Harry Burton.

Mrs. Stewart and her assistants served an ice cream course at the close of the meeting. The assistant hostesses were Mrs. J. W. Jordan, Mrs. Green Neary, Mrs. James R. Hemphill, and Mrs. George Perkins.

The large number of Ironton people who attended the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra Concert here Monday night under the auspices of the Ladies' Musicales, went home boasting the great musical organization and the local club.

Miss Faye Ferguson, solo pianist with the orchestra, is an artist of unusual ability, and her work received the unbounded praise of local music lovers. Ironton has reason to be proud of this young woman, in the opinion of Portsmouth critics.

The entire program so pleased the big audience that the success of the Frieda Lippert Concert, the second number of the Ladies' Musicales' two numbers, is predicted.

The members of the Amadita Club held a meeting Monday evening with Miss Clara Fields as hostess in her home on Highland Avenue. Needlework, games, music and dancing occupied the evening together with delightful local selections. The members present were Misses Lora Martin, Tess and Georgia Townsend, Gladys McCoy, Mary Hansen, Alva Moore, Emma Werner, Grace Shump, and the hostess. A passing party will be held on Thursday evening, December 20 at the home of Miss Lora Martin, 1716 Gallia Street.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Naomi Stewart and Mr. Archie D. Spradlin, which took place October 27, in the office of the Rev. W. H. Spring in the Masonic Temple. Miss Inez Culbertson and Mr. Oscar Robinson were the attendants.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart, of Sylvania, and Mr. Spradlin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Spradlin of the West Side. He is a World War veteran, having seen service in the Navy. Mr. and Mrs. Spradlin will make their home with the bride's parents until after the holidays.

A meeting of Class No. 2 of Grandview Avenue Christian Church will be held tomorrow evening at 7:15 o'clock at the home of Mrs. James Hurlin on Sixth Street. A passing party will be an event of the evening and no gift is to exceed 25 cents.

The members of Liberty Class of Mauly M. E. Church will meet Thursday evening at the home of Everett Ward on Clay Street, instead of with Mrs. Josephine Widdig. All members are asked to note the change.

The Ladies Aid Society of Franklin Avenue M. E. Church will hold a bazaar all day next Saturday at the Win Nye Drug Store. All kinds of fancy articles will be offered for sale.

Mr. and Mrs. George Muller of Higgensport, Ohio, are expected next week to visit with their son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hillecock, of Fifth Street, over the holidays.

Mrs. W. H. Elbert of Campbell Avenue, will receive the members of the Play-A-White Club on Thursday afternoon.

Will Have Ford's Name On Ballots

ADRIAN, MICH., Dec. 12.—Henry Ford's name will be placed upon the Michigan Democratic presidential preference ballots in April, James W. Holmes, an opponent of Ford in the 1918 senatorial primary campaign, announced today.

The required number of signatures have been obtained to petitions circulated here he said. Another petition is in circulation in Hudson, the home of Edward Ford, who has taken the initiative to place Ford's name before the voters at the spring primary.

Marks, Worth Full Value, Planned For Parts Of Germany

DUESSELDORF, GERMANY, Dec. 12.—(By the A. P.)—Paper currency in the occupied areas of Germany is to be replaced shortly, probably before the Christmas tide, by a new currency backed by gold. The new bill will be of four marks, twenty pfennigs, or the value of the American dollar.

Instead of being financed by private concerns, it is planned that issue will be made by the landsbank of the Rhine province, added by the German government. This arrangement came as a complete surprise, as it has been intended to establish a Rhenish issue bank at Cologne, financed by German, Belgian, French, Dutch and Swiss private capital. Negotiations have been in progress for some weeks between representatives of the Berlin government and an organization known as the Union of Municipalities and communes in the occupied territory with the purpose of putting out the new issues.

In order to forestall possible hoarding of the new money, the plans provide that from the time it first makes its appearance, all taxes and all money transactions with the public authorities must be in the new currency.

O. S. U. President's Condition Reported Worse By Physicians

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 12.—The condition of Dr. William Orlin Thompson, president of Ohio State University, who has been ill for some time, took a turn for the worse today with the development of pleurisy, his physicians announced today.

"His temperature hovered around 103 most of the day," Dr. J. J. Coates, one of his physicians said.

Last Sunday it was announced that Dr. Thompson was suffering from bronchitis. Reports from the sick room yesterday were to the effect that he was improving. His physicians today were not inclined to regard his condition as critical.

W. L. Dickey to Be President Pro Tem

At a caucus of the members of the new city council, who will be inducted into office the first of the New Year, held in the office of the city auditor last night, the city law making body organized by choosing Attorney Walter L. Dickey as president pro tem and floor leader, and the naming of committees.

The selection of a successor to Charles Wilson, member elect from the First ward, who will be unable to serve by reason of his appointment to be service director by Mayor-elect Ralph Calvert, was discussed, but no definite action was taken. Among the persons mentioned for the vacancy were Mr. P. W. Young, W. Floyd Unger, Harry Gillen, Frank Galtz, E. W. Smith and Howard Ruyner.

The finance committee will be composed of Miss Emma Gramer, chairman, members Dickey and Davenport. Streets: Mr. Dickey, chairman, members Stewart and Miss Gramer. Hospital, Stewart, chairman.

Police, fire and market, Hooper, chairman. Public Property, Meidler, chairman. Law and Claims, Hopkins, chairman. Light and Water, Hooper, chairman. Ordinance and public library, Steadman, chairman.

A number of minor revisions were made in the rules, and each petition to council must be submitted to council in writing.

The question of the appointment of an assessment clerk came up, and some of the members seemed to think the remuneration, $8 per day, more than the work was worth.

Member-elect Davenport proposed that council take a little time off, do the work themselves on a few streets, thus finding out what it really means, and then fix the salary accordingly. Several progressive moves were mentioned, and it was the unanimous opinion of the councilmen-elect that they act with speed and accuracy, dispensing with as much red tape as possible.

29 Denominations To Be Represented In Church Conference

COLLEMBUS, Dec. 12.—Leaders of 29 denominations of the Protestant churches of the United States were gathered here today for the opening sessions this morning of the annual meeting of the executive committee of the federal council of churches.

The churchmen who will attend the meeting are expected to number about 350 and represent an adult church membership of 20,000,000.

Church work in its broadest aspects, including the relation of the church to international problems, law enforcement and industry, will be discussed by notable speakers. Particular stress probably will be placed on the accomplishments of the council in the industrial field, especially on the work done in advocating shorter working hours in the steel industry.

The sessions continue through Friday.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Three murderers condemned to die in the electric chair at 11 o'clock Thursday night in Sing Sing prison, will have their lives lengthened 45 minutes by an order issued today by Warden Lewis E. Laws.

Other prisoners are giving a musical extravaganza, "Oh Lady, Lady," each night this week and the warden wants to have the show over and all convicts in their cells before the three men are led into the death chamber. The execution of Abraham Becker of the Bronx and George Hucker and Harry Santelli, of Manhattan, accordingly, will not take place until 11:45 Thursday night.

Calls on Coolidge

WASHINGTON, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—While the National Republican convention was holding its morning session, former Governor Frank Lowden, of Illinois, who was one of the big three candidates for the presidential nomination in 1920, called at the White House and talked with President Coolidge. In reply to questions afterward the former governor declared that no activities designed to bring forward his name as a candidate next year were being engaged in with his sanction.

Mr. Lowden described his call on the president as a "visit of respect." He also took occasion to say that Mr. Coolidge's message to congress had been received very favorably.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth Ohio.

Get some pep into your system and do something worth while. If you are not working, get busy and do some kind of a job. I imagine you could get work helping out in a store, until after the holidays at least. If you will do this you will meet all kinds of people, and soon find out that there are others in the world lots worse off than you are. Then, too, if you belong to any church, join some of their social and business activities. You will find plenty to do, if you will just look around a bit, and I am sure you will soon discover that you are big enough to fill it.

Dear Dolly—Do you know whether or not Columbia University handles any correspondence courses? If so, what is their address?

Write to the registrar or secretary of Columbia University, New York City, for this information.

Dear Dolly—I am a very handsome and charming young man and I am very much chagrined every time I have an occasion to walk down Chillicothe street, because there are so many painted dolls who do not seem to have anything else to do, but stir with me. Of course I never flip back with them but that doesn't keep them from making eyes at me, daughter-knows. Dolly, this is so embarrassing to a nice, refined young man. Dolly, two of them went so far as to ask me to get in their machine and take a joy ride with them. What would you advise me to do in a case like that, if they try it again?

NICE YOUNG MAN.

Well—I would advise you to slip your monette into your jeans, take your handkerchief out of your sleeve, give your waxed mustache a wicked twist, and tell them to "beat it."

Dear Dolly—I would be much obliged and thankful to you if you would print the addresses of the Hunter, Trader & Trapper, The National Sportsman and Out Door Life in your column. CHARLES, The Hunter-Trade-Trapper Magazine is published in Columbus, Ohio, and the National Sportsman is published in Boston, Mass., while Out Door Life is published in Denver, Colorado.

Dear Dolly—If Eleventh street is resurfaced, will the property owners be allowed to pay cash for same, or will they have to let it run for ten years? INTERESTED READER. They can either pay it down or pay it in yearly assessments at so much per year for ten years.

Dear Dolly—I am a young man of 20 and have been keeping company with a girl of 15 for ten months or longer. Dolly, I think quite a lot of her and her parents have treated me kindly until lately, when they have become quite cruel with me and told me that I could not keep company with their daughter any longer. Now, Dolly, please tell me the best thing to do about it.

WORRIED MAN. The best thing you can do is to let the girl alone. I think her parents should have started to treat you "cruel" long ago, as the girl is entirely too young to be keeping company with a man of your age, or any other age for that matter.

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. George M. Taylor entertained with the first of a series of attractive parties she is giving this week at her home on Fourth street Tuesday afternoon, when she assembled enough guests for seven tables of bridge. The rooms offered a most artistic setting, with roses and chrysanthemums in graceful arrangement, and after several hours of playing Miss Ruth Thompson was presented with a pretty trophy for receiving high score, while Mrs. A. H. Taylor was given the consolation favor. At the close of the afternoon a beautifully appointed refreshment course was served at the small tables by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Homer C. Setty, and Mrs. John A. Grimes.

Tomorrow afternoon, between the hours of two and five o'clock, Mrs. J. F. Herd will have on display at her home 802 Walker street, a fine array of oriental novelties from China, including beads, ear-rings, bags and luncheon sets made by the Chinese ladies and sent to Mrs. Herd by her daughter, Mrs. Anna Rardin Davis, for sale. Mrs. Davis, who with her husband, Rev. George J. Davis, is doing missionary work in China, serves breakfast to fifty or sixty orphan children every morning, and the small profit realized on these articles will be used to help defray this expense. The public is invited to patronize this sale.

A called-meeting of the Ladies' Mission Circle of the First Baptist church will be held tomorrow afternoon at the church. The devotionals will be led by Mrs. Clyde Virgin. Mrs. Charles Winchell and Mrs. James Dawson will render a duet. The lesson is on the Baptist Missionary Work Among the Hopi Indians in Arizona. Mrs. E. N. Fetter will be in charge of the meeting.

The Portsmouth Reading Club will meet on Monday evening, December 17th, at the home of Miss Anna Ross on Court street.

"Modern American Drama" was the interesting topic for discussion last evening at the meeting of the Clover Club held at the home of Mrs. E. D. Rawson on Twentieth street. Miss Louise Anderson of Cleveland who is visiting with Mrs. Alan N. Jordan, told of her experiences with "The Little Theatre in America," and Mrs. Albert Morring read upon the subject, "The One Act Play in America." Mrs. Frank Miller was the assistant of the evening.

The members gave a shower of fruit for the Hopedale Home on Mill-dale Road.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Misses May and Eleanor Kicker on Fifth street, January 8 when the election of officers will be held.

All members of the American Legion Auxiliary who have promised personal gifts for the Christmas box to be sent to the Soldiers' Home at Dayton, are asked to send them to the home of Mrs. George E. Matthews, "The Three Oaks," not later than Saturday noon. Donors of large cakes and those who promised contributions of money are also asked to see that they are in by Saturday noon. In case anyone is not able to deliver their donations they should call Mrs. Matthews and they will be called for.

Mary Ann Reinhardt, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Reinhardt of Eighteenth and Waller streets, who has been quite ill with diphtheria, is improving.

Mrs. Harry Brooks (Bertha Stalger) will leave tomorrow for her home in Columbus after a few days' visit with Miss Bertha Reinert of Eighth street.

Mrs. John G. Dillon and daughter, Miss Helen Dillon, of Micklethwait Road and Mrs. F. E. Duhon, of Fourth street, motored to Columbus today for a visit with Mrs. E. B. Dillon and family.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Gladys Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, of High Street, to Mr. Belmer E. Collins, on Monday December 10, at Cattedsburg, Ky. The bride has held a position with the Portsmouth Dry Goods Company for some time, while Mr. Collins is with the Wheeling Steel Corporation. Mr. Collins is the son of Edward T. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Collins are residing at 1812 Summit Street.

Section 4 of the Woman's Union of the First Christian Church will hold a social meeting Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Edgar Jones, 1515 Eleventh Street. All ladies of the church are cordially invited to attend and participate in the tea and passing party to be held at the close of the meeting.

The Girl Scouts are sending the S. O. S. appeal for a sewing machine as they are dressing dolls for the contribution of toys which the Boy Scouts are collecting for the poor kiddies of the city. The girls ask the use of a sewing machine from now until Christmas to be used at their club rooms. Anyone interested may call 647-R, Girl Scout Headquarters.

A called meeting of the B. and T. W. Club will be held at 7:30 this evening at the home of Miss Ada Lammers on Seventh Street. All children and committee members are asked to be present to discuss Christmas work.

The Progress Club meeting postponed from Monday evening owing to the concert by the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra is scheduled to meet with Miss M. J. Lockwell of Eighth Street, next Monday evening.

Mrs. H. F. Kinstler has returned to her home in Cincinnati after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Evans of Wilson Avenue, Sciotoville.

MAH-JONGG

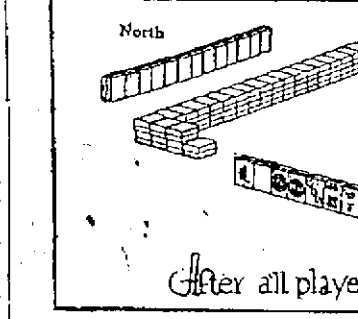

BY J. P. BABCOCK
Leading Mah Jongg Authority and Author of Babcock's Red Book of Rules

The previous articles carried us up to the point where the wall had been built, four-sided and solid. Now we will break it and start play.

EAST Wind makes one throw of the two dice. It totals the points so thrown, and starts counting counter-clockwise around the table, commencing with his own. Thus, the East Wall is one, the South Wall two, the West Wall three, etc.

He stops when he has counted a number equal to the throw of the dice, and this is the wall to be opened. After playing a few evenings, the actual counting is omitted as you will learn from experience that East Wall is one, five or nine; South, two, six or ten; West, three, seven or eleven; and North, four, eight or twelve.

THROW DICE AGAIN
Determination of the exact spot to be opened in the wall thus selected is made by another throw of the dice, this time by him whose wall is to be opened. He throws the two dice and the total of the throw is added to the total thrown by East in determining the wall to be opened. Thus if East threw six, the South Wall would be opened. If South then threw five, the six thrown by East and the five thrown by South would be added, giving a total of 11.

Thinking the better number, he whose wall is to be opened starts counting from the right end of his wall, counts one on each pair of tiles to the left and removes that pair of tiles whose number correspond to the determined number. In the example given above, it would be the eleventh pair of tiles from the right corner of South's wall. The two tiles thus removed are thereafter known as "loose tiles." They are placed down side on top of the wall just to the right of the opening, the under tile being nearest the opening.

THE DRAW
Now comes the draw. East starts by drawing four tiles (two pairs of twos) from the left of the opening. Then South takes the next four, West the next four, etc., until each hand contains 12 tiles. Then East draws one more, and so, in turn, do the other players. The draw is finished by East, who draws one extra. Thus each hand contains 13 tiles, except that of East, which contains 14.

Each player now arranges his hand by suits, dragons and winds, placing together all those of a kind.

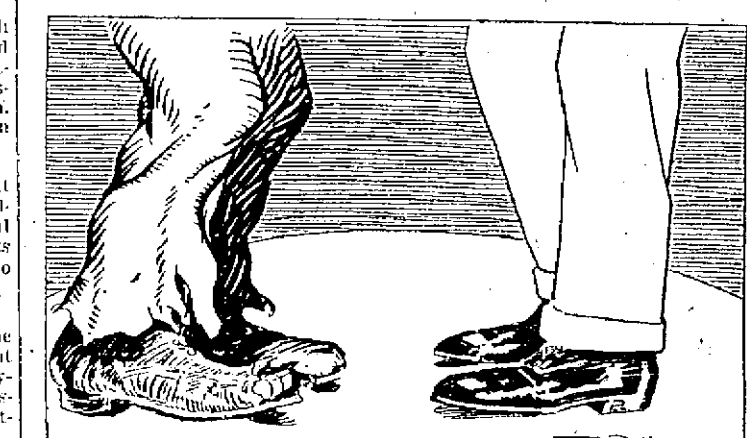

Each player sees only his own hand. This can be accomplished by setting his tiles on, and near his own edge of the table, or by the use of racks.

GOODY-TWO-SHOES GETS A PRIZE

"I'm worn by both beggar and knight."

THIS was the next riddle that the Riddle Lady made up in Riddle Land.

"I'm worn by both beggar and knight. Sometimes I am loose, sometimes tight. Quite often I feel A bit down at the heel. And then without doubt I'm a sight. As often I'm tall, sometimes flat. As often I'm thin as I'm fat. The more I grow, The more wrinkles I show. But I'm never upset about that."

"Though my body's as black as a coal. You must know that I boast of a sole. But the thing that I fear, With old age drawing near, Is that it wears into a hole."

"I walk further far than I ride. For I have a remarkable stride, But the thing that is droll, When I go for a stroll, Why, I carry my toadstools inside!"

"I button up tight, or I lace. And I whisper that's not a disgrace. And I've ten perfect toes. Though I haven't a nose. And my tongue is as long as my face."

"I've a twin brother, too, if you please! They say we're as like as two peas. We are always together, No matter what weather. And but for goloshes we'd freeze."

Tuss-It-toots stroked his whiskers thoughtfully. "I might guess the answer if I tried very hard," he said, "but I don't think it fair to take advantage."

"That's what I think," said the Old Woman who had so many children she didn't know what to do. Goody-Two-Shoes was passing by and stopped just in time to hear the Old Woman's remark.

"What's all the talking about?" she remarked. "I was just on my way to the cobbler's to get my shoes mended."

"What's that?" the Old Woman wanted to know. "I'm a little hard of hearing."

"Shoes?" yelled Goody. "I said that!"

But she hadn't time to finish for all the Riddle Lady people called out. "She's guessed the answer without even hearing it. She gets the prize."

Nancy ran to the lucky little girl. "Here," she said, "here is a pair of nice little red shoes. You won't have to go to the cobbler's after all."

Furs, The Gift She Longs For Most

CHRISTMAS is in the air, and you'll enjoy gift giving if you take plenty of time to select them. Make this store your Christmas store—we have anticipated gift requirements long in advance, and are ably prepared to act as your guide and your advisor in selecting for your entire list. Note the attractive items mentioned.

Furs, the Gift Supreme

Can't you just see how happy Mother, Sister and Friend will be when she opens up that mysterious looking long grey box and finds revealed a lovely Fur Choker!

They're here in such variety—rich looking pelts—one and two skin effects. They're priced from $6.95 to $110.

Christmas Gift Apparel

Those "extra" things one wants and never seems to get for herself—that will solve many a gift problem. You'll enjoy giving gifts of Apparel, too.

For instance—a lovely crepe de chine overblouse, beaded and embroidered, one of those Parisian looking blouses that women like. They are just $8.50. Some are more of course, and again, a good many are as low as $5.

Brushed Wool Sweaters

There's no such thing as too many Sports things these days—so why not a Brushed Wool Swagger Jacket? They are priced from $5.00 and make excellent gifts.

Don't forget to include a brushed wool Scarf to match the Sweater. Matched Sports Sets are quite the thing. Scarfs are from $3.95 up.

The More Intimate Gifts

It's such a lot of fun to choose little personal things, you know your mother, your sister or your best friend are just aching for. You'll find selections here fascinating.

A dainty pair of Pajamas for Jean to tuck away for week-end visits—just the thing! Tailored ones oftentimes choose radium for their fashioning, and are priced $10 and up.

Dainty Lingerie for Gifts

The thrill of receiving dainty Lingerie for Christmas never grows old. And selections here reveal the kind of garments one has always hoped to have.

Tailored chemise sets of radium in flesh, orchid or white, and trimmed with tiny bands of net, simply could not be more enhancing. They're priced reasonably low.

Important Trifles

That Will Please Every Woman

Christmas just simply isn't Christmas to any woman unless there's Hosiery, Hankies, Gloves and the like on the Christmas tree. And they're becoming such important items of dress, that their value as a gift will be more appreciated this season. Our Accessory aisles fairly radiate with gift suggestions.

The choice of a pair of fine Kid Gloves, with embroidered cuffs in gauntlet style, will prove a real gift success. They are priced $4.50 the pair.

You'll enjoy giving her a pair of lovely chiffon hosiery. They are almost cobwebby in their texture, and oh! so acceptable—$3 the pair.

A Handkerchief easily solves the solution for the friend who lives across the continent. And there are some very lovely ones to be chosen here for $1.00.

There's no such thing as enough frilly Neckwear this season. An exquisite bit of Neckwear for sister's coat frock may be selected for $1.50.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — IN THE TOWER OF TICKS

As Number 10 then came in, he looked at the ladder leaning up against the clock and said, "I'll tell you what I'm to do, if someone will help me on the clock's face where I belong." "Sure, I'll help you," said Jack. And Number 10 said his job was to tell mother and dad to rest and read.

After Jack had helped him up the ladder Number 11 came in. "I'm on the clock to tell everybody when to turn in and get a good night's rest," he shouted. "And I'm going to get right up there where I belong so that I won't keep anybody up." And up the ladder he scrambled fast as he could.

Last, but not least, came Number 12. "You'd better hurry up," shouted Ticky. "Every other number is in its place." "Well," snapped Number 12, "my job is to tell the whole country that everybody should be fast asleep." And then he went to the top position on the old clock's face. (Continued.)

Dr. Crotti, Eminent Specialist, Says Goitre Infectious Disease; Germ Is Found In Water

Delivers Address To Local Physicians; Banquet Enjoyed

Dr. Andre Crotti, internationally renowned goitre specialist of Columbus, addressed the Hempstead Academy of Medicine at a banquet at the Washington Hotel last night on the subject of "Goitre as an Infectious Disease." Dr. Crotti's theory that goitre is caused by a germ which has been found in water is new to the medical world, and if proven correct may revolutionize the present methods of treating goitre.

"From my research work, I have reached a conclusion that goitre is an infectious disease, having found germs in the water and similar ones in a goitre," Dr. Crotti declared. "Of course," the Columbus surgeon continued, "I cannot now conclusively prove my theory, but I am convinced in my own mind that this is the case. The exact organism is not known, but we hope soon to learn its nature."

Dr. Crotti had with him a number of slides with which he illustrated his lecture, Virgil Fowler operating the stercorator machine.

While in the city Dr. Crotti was the house guest of Dr. J. S. Rardin of the Ohio State Medical Association. He returned to Columbus this morning.

Visitors present at the banquet were: Dr. R. P. Seiler of Piquette, Dr. R. V. Littleton of Rome, and Dr. Robert Andre of Waverly.

Dr. Murfin, President of the Columbus Academy of Medicine, presided.

Dr. James C. Murfin was elected president of the Hempstead Academy of Medicine, at a recent business session. Dr. G. D. Tarte was elected vice president, and Dr. Harry Rapp was chosen secretary.

The new board of censors is composed of Drs. Jordan, Quinn, and Nunez.

Literary: Dr. W. W. Smith, Treasurer; Dr. Harry A. Schirman, A. L. Test, Oscar Micklethwait, E. O. McCall, and T. C. Crawford.

Delegate to state convention, Dr. J. N. Ellison; alternate, Dr. Gilbert Micklethwait.

Waverly Farm Sold; Deal May Include Cereal Plant

WAVERLY, Dec. 12.—A deal was closed Tuesday whereby the entire

Avoid Imitations—Substitutes

farm owned by James Hibbens and other Hibbens heirs was deeded to R. L. Deskins of Logan, West Virginia. It is also practically certain that Mr. Deskins will acquire the cereal mill located by the N. & W. depot from the present owner, Joseph Shepleman. When the latter trade is consummated the new owner plans to make a number of changes to increase the efficiency of the mill and put it on a business basis. It is probable that steam power will be installed to run the plant; and also to run an automatic concrete block mixer for the manufacture of blocks for building purposes. Mr. Deskins has a market for these blocks in West Virginia, although he expects to find a market in this state. The capacity of the plant will be from 400 to 500 blocks per day.

The cereal mill itself will be up to date in every respect. It is planned to set up a kiln drier for grain. Mr. Shepleman, the retiring owner of the mill, will be retained to oversee the mill because of his knowledge of the business. A coal yard will also be run in connection with the other business.

Home Made Remedy

PARMINT

Stops Any Cough Quick

Get from any druggist, one ounce of Parmint (double strength) add to it a little sugar and enough water to make a half pint. The minute you take it, like a soothing, healing poultice it spreads, and relief comes at once. Children like it too.—Advertisement.

Ohio State Grange Convenes

TOLEDO, Dec. 12.—Resolutions advocating important changes in state and federal laws were introduced by title at today's opening session of the fifty-first annual convention of the Ohio State Grange.

Chief among the resolutions presented were those advocating a gasoline tax, elimination of rural grade crossings, support of the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway project, deportation of all unassimilated foreigners convicted of crime, and uniform marriage and divorce laws throughout the nation.

A total of 307 delegates were present at the opening meeting. Harry A. Caton, master of the State Grange, gave his annual address and the annual report of C. A. Dyer, state overseer, was presented. The report of Mrs. Harriett H. Dickson, state juvenile grange superintendent, was read, showing the Ohio Grange to be the leader among the states in this work.

Faulty Warrant Lets

Liquor Outfit Escape

CINCINNATI, Dec. 12.—U. S. Assistant District Attorney A. L. Roeder told U. S. District Judge Smith Hickenloper in open court today that a defective search warrant in the case of Robert J. Lawrence, Cleveland, had resulted in the failure of federal prohibition officers to uncover stupendous bootlegging activities which extended to many cities.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Hubert Stane serves a term in prison for forgery. He rescues Helen Yardely from the river when her life is in danger. They start to walk the trail to the camp of Helen's uncle, near a northern post of the Hudson Bay Company. They take possession of a deserted cabin and at night the cabin is attacked by Indians.

Helen is abducted and Stane is left for dead. Benard, a trapper, finds Stane and revives him. They are joined in the search for Helen by Anderson of the N. W. M. P. Gerald Ainley, in love with Helen, shoots her captors and rescues the girl.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Didn't know me, Ainley? I dare say not. I'm not quite the fellow's mannikin that I was in the old days at the Varsity. Got a man's job now, you see. And that reminds me, I'm here on duty. I happened to be up the little Moose when that shooting took place this morning. There's a couple dead Indians up there, and as I guess you had some thing to do with their sudden deaths I shall have to call on you for an explanation you know."

Ainley looked at the policeman without fear. He waved a hand towards the fire.

"May as well make ourselves comfortable. It's rather a long story I have to tell. Where are your dogs?"

"Back in the wood-anchored. I'll fetch them."

"No," said Stane. "I will go back for them."

He turned, and Helen turned with him.

"You don't mind," she whispered. "Mind?"

She walked by his side, a hand on his arm. Once when they were well in the shadows of the wood they stopped, and with his arm about her he kissed her.

"My dear!" he whispered, "my dear!"

Helen said nothing immediately, but gave a little sobbing laugh of gladness. Then after a moment she asked, "How did you escape? How did you find me?"

GOOD LOOKS GOOD HEALTH

WENDELL'S SALTS. AMBITION BRAND—That's the answer. Some of you ladies who read this may have complexion disfigured by liver spots and discolorations. If this is the case, don't worry about it and don't use face lotions. Just go at once to Wendell Bros. and get a large bottle of WENDELL'S SALTS. AMBITION BRAND for only sixty cents. It will clear your complexion by helping to drive from your system the poisonous uric acid that is affecting your liver, stomach and kidneys. A poor, rough, mottled skin isn't due to the sun or weather, but to an upset condition which uric acid usually causes. Go to the root of the trouble. Destroy that uric acid and your good looks and health will return.

WENDELL'S SALTS. AMBITION BRAND, is a wonderful preparation for indigestion, biliousness, constipation, headache, rheumatism, malaria, nervousness, kidney troubles—when caused by uric acid poison.

Remember WENDELL'S SALTS. AMBITION BRAND, is guaranteed by WENDELL BROS., and dealers everywhere.

It is pleasant to take, acts quickly and you can get your money back on the first bottle purchased if dissatisfied.

"It is too long a story to tell you the whole of it just now. But right in the nick of time, when I was expecting to die, the owner of our cabin, Jean Benard came back. He saved my life; but as he knew nothing about you the attackers got away with you, but as soon as he heard my story he got ready to pursue, and having found out that your kidnappers were making for the Little Moose we took a short cut and waited for you. We were at your heels when the rifles from the shore—"

"Then you were with the second sledge?"

"Yes, I and Jean Benard."

They moved forward together, found the dogs, and having righted the sledge by which they had been anchored, they returned to the camp. Ainley, pipe in hand, apparently quite cool, was talking.

"Having got the news, I made straight for the cabin, and had the luck to arrive there half an hour too late. One of the men found a dead man, who, from the description, I mistook for Stane here, and we also found a wounded Indian, who with a little persuasion, told us what he knew, which was that a half-breed, of the name of Chignok, inflamed with love for Miss Yardely, had carried her off, designing to make her his squaw. I understand that Chignok is what the Indians call a bad man, but perhaps you know him?"

He broke off and looked directly at Anderson as he spoke, and waited for a reply. The mounted policeman nodded, and as casually as he could replied: "Yes, I have met him. He is—no good."

"Then, by all accounts, you have met a regular rogue, Anderson? But to resume, the Indian told us that Chignok had carried off Miss Yardely. Under pressure he told also the place for which the half-breed was making, a desolate district, little traveled—the Lake of the Little Moose. Know it?"

"Yes, I was there this morning; Stane and I have just come from there."

"Ah! you also followed Chignok's trail, I suppose. But I was there first. I followed a shorter route and I was at his camp waiting for him when he showed up. I saw Miss Yardely on the sledge, and as for the moment we were three against three, I felt that it was not an occasion when chances should be taken, so we fired from the bushes on the three kidnappers and shot them down. Then as there was another sledge coming on behind, I removed Miss Yardely to my own sledge, and to escape further trouble we pushed the dogs hard till we got here. And that's about all, I think."

He fell silent for a moment, and sat there watching the two white men and the white girl who had heard the conclusion of his narrative.

After a little time Anderson spoke. "Seems a long time since we three men forgot her at Oxford."

"Yes," agreed Ainley, apparently relieved at the change of subject. "A good bit of water has gone down the Isis since then."

"And all the circumstances considered it is rather a coincidence that we three should meet like this in the wilderness."

"It certainly is dramatic," admitted Ainley. "Quite a Drury Lane drama."

"More so than you know, Ainley," answered Anderson quickly. "Stane, let Ainley have a look at that piece of paper you carry about with you."

A moment later Stane had opened the oilskin packet, and was unfolding the sheet of note-paper. Ainley watched him in amazement, and then as Stane held the paper towards him, and he bent over it, a look of consternation came on his face, and a quick oath broke from his lips.

"Where did you find that paper, Stane?" said the policeman brusquely.

"In a copy of Jewell's Plate which Ainley had borrowed from me, and which he returned to my scout after I was arrested."

"It's a bareface lie! A plot!" cried Ainley. "I'm surprised at you, Anderson—a representative of the law—telling yourself to such an absurd charge. You ought to know better."

"I know more than you think, Ainley. You remember Jarlock who was in our set—?"

"Jarlock!" The name broke from Ainley in a tone of consternation.

"Yes, Jarlock! A good fellow, Jarlock. A friend who could forgive a friend his faults, who indeed could on occasion overlook a crime when he thought it was a crime of a hard-pressed man."

"What in thunder are you gassing about?" cried Ainley blusteringly.

"About Jarlock and a certain promissory note which he paid, a note which bore your name and his. Your signature was quite genuine. Jarlock's—well, Jarlock denied it, and you owned that you—"

"He told?" said Ainley. "The cur told?"

"Yes, he told me in confidence, after he had heard of Stane's denial of the charge for which he was imprisoned. You see he believed in Stane, as I did myself."

"And you would make me the scapegoat for Stane's crime," Ainley laughed harshly. "I will see you hung first," he cried. "I—"

He broke off abruptly as a sound of yelping dogs sounded from the wood, and stared into the darkness. Anderson rose from his seat.

"I expect that will be Jean Benard," he said quietly.

STARRING AT HIM WITH EVIL EYES FULL OF HATE.

CHAPTER XXIV

The Trail to Paradise

When Ainley faced a white, tortured face, it was to find the man whom he had used as a tool and whom, having used, he had tried to kill, seated by the fire, staring at him with his evil eyes full of hate. For a moment there was silence, then Anderson spoke.

"Would you like to hear Chignok's story, Ainley?"

"There is no need that I should," answered Ainley with a bitter, hope-less laugh. "I can guess it fairly well."

He unbuttoned his fire and taking out a pocketbook and pencil began to write. Jean Benard, having fed his dogs, began to prepare a meal for himself. Anderson sat by the fire, starting into the flames, reflecting on the irony of fate that had selected him of all men in the Mounted Service to be the one to arrest his whitest fellow-student. Stane had turned away and joined Helen, who still paced to and fro in the shadows.

"Let us try to forget," said Helen with a quick glance towards the fire. "Tell me what happened when you went out, I thought I was certainly going to my death."

"Ah, I knew that was in my mind!—but how did you escape?"

"It was a narrow thing. An Indian crept up with me, and another man was hurrying towards me with an axe. I could not get away, and a third person appeared suddenly with a knife. I thought the knife was meant for me, but it was not. It was meant for my antagonist, and he went down and just after—my—my—savior was killed by the second Indian, who also struck at me, knocking me senseless."

"Who was the person with the knife? Someone with Jean Benard?"

"No," answered Stane slowly. "It was the Indian girl, Makolod."

"Makolod?" cried Helen in utter surprise.

"Yes, I did not know it at the time, but we found her afterwards. Jean Benard and I. It was a dreadful discovery. Jean had come back to his cabin hoping to marry her, and she had died for me."

Helen sobbed convulsively. "I shall always be grateful to her, though I was jealous of her, she saved you—for me—and she was only an Indian girl."

How To Stop Sour Stomach

Chronic With Many People—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Bring Quick Comfort—Sweeten and Stop Acid, Sour Risings and Dyspepsia Distress

When the fact is considered that even careful people, those who follow diet rules, get attacks of indigestion, no argument is needed to recommend the best means of relief. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are used by lawyers, doctors, teachers, by business men, high livers, society women, industrial workers, clerks, and the worst abused stomachs in the world, those of a host of travelers.

For thirty years people have learned that they may eat what they like or what is set before them, and no matter what the condition of the stomach, if due to dyspepsia, these wonderful tablets stop gasiness and sour risings, they give the stomach the alkaline effect which overcomes acidity and thus they either avoid distress after eating or else they quickly relieve it. Be fortified. Get a 50-cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store and arm yourself against indigestion.

Damage Case To Have New Trial

COLUMBUS, Dec. 12.—Affirming the appellate court of Hamilton county, the supreme court today sent back to the common pleas court for a new trial, the case of Edward T. Toland against the Ohio Traction Company, in which he asked $5,000 for injuries sustained at St. Barnard when he was crushed by the bumper of a car by a wagon as the car passed. His leg was broken. The common pleas court had awarded him $3,000. The court of appeals reversed for error by the trial court in its general charge to the jury, failing to define the issues or enlighten the jury with reference thereto, failing to define negligence or contributory negligence, and in leaving to the jury to guess on what propositions it was necessary that the evidence should preponderate.

France Is Cheered By America's Decision

PARIS, Dec. 12.—(By the A. P.)—The French foreign office on being informed today by The Associated Press of the Washington government's announcement that it would "view with favor" participation of American experts in the proposed reparations commission of inquiry expressed through a high official the gratification of the French government, by which, he declared, "it will be appreciated and highly welcomed." "The members of the reparations commission have discussed informally the names of various Americans who might be invited to take part, among them, Willis S. Booth, Clare Mott Woolley, William Elderkin Leffingwell, and Silas Strong.

The general aim of the reparations commission is really to make an investigation without limitations, so that it will go far beyond the bounds placed by the French government in its first negotiations with Washington.

earned incomes, namely, those which come from investments, is commensurate.

"This proposition was first made by the Democratic secretary of the treasury in 1918 and was offered in 1921 as an amendment to the revenue bill by Senator Harris, of Georgia. It was defeated by a vote of 36 Republicans to 21 Democrats on the ground, as stated by Senator Fessenden, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate:

"That the question earned and unearned incomes was most exhaustively considered by the committee, by the Senate and by the Treasury Department and the opinion was nearly unanimous that any such provision is impossible of administration."

"What has produced this extraordinary reversal of opinion on the part of the Treasury Department and the administration? If this provision was nearly impossible of administration in 1921 why is it possible of administration in 1923?"

The president opposes any increase in the pay of soldiers who fought the war. Although a great reward can be made and a reasonable compensation proposed for the soldiers and sailors can be provided at the same time the president is determined that justice shall not be done to the war veterans. Their just claims for consideration are summarily dismissed, but the president is strong for the maintenance of the Forney-McCumber tariff bill, which gives favored trusts, monopolies and combinations in restraint of trade a subsidy estimated at more than three billions of dollars per annum, or twice as much as it will take to pay the soldiers' bonus in cash. For privilege everything, for the defenders of the country, nothing.

"The president declares that no more important duty rests on the government than the adequate care of sick and disabled veterans and yet there is no word of reparation for the grantees who have disgraced the Veterans' Bureau and who have stolen or misappropriated funds which were set aside to take care of the men and women who suffered the loss of health and became permanently injured in the service of the nation."

"The president offers no constructive thought on the railroad problem, perhaps the most important domestic problem confronting the nation. He generalizes somewhat vaguely about the value of consolidations and suggests that the railroads be given authority to voluntarily consolidate."

Mr. McAdoo declared the consolidation proposal of President Coolidge gives little promise of relief for the farmers particularly and for the people of the country as a whole from the present excessive cost of railroad transportation."

Reforms proposed by the executive to overcome the confessed failure of the Esch-Cummings bill, Mr. McAdoo said he inaugurated in his administration as director-general of the railroads, but that they were "thrown away by the Esch-Cummings act which restored an economical practice which federal control had abolished."

Revolt

Moving with great rapidity under the leadership of Generals M. M. Diezuez, Marchito Gaxiola and Rafael Buelin, the invaders are taking control of all towns in the line of march.

General Diezuez is reported to have declared his forces would remain in the field until General Plutarco Elias Calles has been removed from the presidential chair.

More Troops Join Rebels

VERA CRUZ, Dec. 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Revolutionary headquarters here announce that rebel forces under command of General Silvano Garcia have defeated and dispersed the loyal troops which were defending Centotlan, a town on the border of the states of Vera Cruz and Puebla. Jose Maria Sanchez, former governor of Puebla, who was at the head of the three forces, is being pursued by the rebels.

The statement also asserts that the government of the state of Colima has been overthrown, while all troops in Sonora and Sinaloa have joined the revolutionary movement.

"The troops of General Estrada," continues the statement, "have been ordered to advance toward La Plancha, Michoacan, where it is expected the first major combat with the Obregon forces will take place."

"Last towns in Michoacan have recognized the revolutionary movement. Several squadrons belonging to the Sixth Federal Regiment, which were inarrison at Culiacan, have joined the revolt, as have the forces of Aguilera."

Elections

United States to help Europe even though outside the League of Nations is in line with the effort of the administration to improve the foreign trade of the United States. The President's references to the Russian situation, for instance, run along simultaneously with the negotiations being carried on by American business interests to establish important business connections in Russia. The preparation of a food credit to help the German people this winter means an increased demand for certain American products, probably fats as well as grain, with a corresponding effect on the farmers' situation on this side of the Atlantic. When, for instance, the United States established a food credit for Russia, the American Relief Administration purchased large quantities of American wheat, helping to seal the price upward.

The moves that will lead to a settlement of the reparations problem are necessarily slow in process but the effect of a settlement is already being talked of for if the reparations question is once determined, the currencies of the various European countries involved are bound to show improvement with a consequent increase in the amount of goods which can be purchased by European countries from the American producers.

Senator Hiram Johnson and those who make up the "irreconcilable" school of thought may criticize operation with Europe as outlined from time to time by Secretary of State Hughes, but if the effect of such operation is to stimulate prosperity, the Coolidge administration expects to reap greater advantages from its side of the argument—the economic results.

The reasoning of the politicians who are urging an affirmative foreign policy as well as tax revision is that with good business conditions and improvement in the agricultural situation the tendency of the voter will be to consider seriously whether any change should be made.

Just what the form of the European settlement will be is not so much an item in the discussion as that Europe shall at least see a ray of light. Confidence is what is most sought and the spectacle of all the nations co-operating to bring back stability in the economic world is expected to have an immediate reflex in the United States.

There is an atmosphere of hope—almost almost call it buoyancy—at present which is so much in contrast with the deadlock in foreign relations in the last two years that already the effect of the change is noticeable here.

France under Premier Poincare has played a long hand. England has been setback and quite recently when the United States offered a helping hand, the offer through one misunderstanding after another failed of acceptance.

With the elections coming on, Premier Poincare must show some solution, something tangible also in the way of reparations money.

The French internal loans have been reaching an interest rate that is prohibitive and half the work in the devastated regions is to be completed.

Notre Dame Retains Flashy Backfield

SOUTH BEND, IND., Dec. 12.—

While losing four regular players and six substitutes, the Notre Dame University football team next year will have its entire regular backfield again in competition in addition to several strong line players. Coach Knute Rockne said today. His returning stars are Don Miller, Jimmy Crowley, Harry Stuhldreher and Elmer Hayden.

Six of eight games to be played by Notre Dame have been arranged. They include: Lombard at Notre Dame, Oct. 4; Army at New York, Oct. 13; Princeton at Princeton, Oct. 23; Georgia Tech at Notre Dame, Nov. 1; Nebraska at Notre Dame, Nov. 15; Notre Dame at Wisconsin Nov. 18.

At the same time several other agreements negotiated during the recess of congress were sent to the senate, but although their exact nature was not revealed, they were said to be comparatively unimportant. All were referred to the foreign relations committee.

Traumatic ratification of the Mexican claims conventions is to be urged by the administration. Official advice to the Washington government as to the revolutionary outbreak in Mexico, so far, it was explained today, have not been sufficiently complete to indicate that a situation had developed there which warranted any change of policy.

To Open War on New York Fake Doctors

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Action to drive alleged illegal practitioners of medicine and dentistry from New York City will be taken tomorrow when the state attorney general's office and district attorneys in both Manhattan and Brooklyn confer with state medical officials.

Continuing his investigation of five alleged "diploma mills" operating in New York City under Delaware charters, the attorney general will seek to determine if alleged violations of the state law form the basis for prosecuting officials of these institutions—Cosmopolitan University, Lafayette University, Lincoln College, Inc., and the Rockefeller Institute of Chiropractic.

A warrant for the arrest of Dr. Maxwell Steinberg, said to have been associated with Dr. Julius Spiegel and Dr. William Lopatin in operating four alleged "diploma mills," will be sought by Deputy Attorney General Gollieb. Steinberg was charged with practicing dentistry in Brooklyn without a license.

Jessie Steinberg was arrested in Brooklyn today and held in $200 bail, charged with the illegal practice of dentistry.

Klan Editor's Murder Trial Starts Today

ATLANTA, GA., Dec. 12.—Philip E. Fox, former publicity chief of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, is scheduled to face trial here tomorrow on a charge of murder growing out of the death of William S. Cobb, attorney for the Simmons faction of the Ku Klux Klan.

Klanmen, followers of the present administration and of the Simmons faction, were reported tonight as arriving here from all sections to attend the trial.

Hundreds of witnesses have been summoned, many hailing from Dallas, the former home of the defendant, and other parts of Texas.

The indictment charges that the Klan publicity chief, official organ of the "Knights Hawk," killed Cobb in his office here November 5.

Send Mexican Agreement to Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Despite disturbed conditions in Mexico, the two Mexican-American claims conventions upon which diplomatic recognition of Mexico by the United States was predicated, were sent to the senate today by President Coolidge for ratification.

As yet no ambassador to Mexico has been named, and it was indicated that the question of designating one was not at present under urgent consideration. There was no hint, however, that the nomination was being deferred because of the revolutionary outbreak in Mexico.

Decision Sustained

COLUMBUS—The Supreme Court affirmed the decision of the lower courts which had granted Mrs. Slaymaker, Columbus, a judgment of $1,116.310 in her suit against the E. W. Clark Company, of Philadelphia.

Baptist Ministers Place Floral Wreaths On Harding's Tomb and Grave of Rev. McAfee

MARION, O., Dec. 12.—(By the A. P.)—More than 100 Baptist ministers from all over Ohio, attending the Ohio conference on evangelism, Tuesday marched to Marion cemetery and laid floral wreaths at the tomb of the late President Warren G. Harding and upon the grave of his home pastor, Dr. Thomas H. McAfee. Brief tributes were paid by Dr. H. F. Stillwell of Cleveland.

In addition to the ministers, approximately 300 members of Trinity Baptist Church, of which President Harding was a member, participated in the cemetery service.

Stirring appeals for increased efforts in evangelism in city and rural districts and for co-operation between churches in evangelical work were voiced at today's session of the conference.

Shy On Pastors.

Outlining the needs of his district, Dr. L. L. Long of Dayton, superintendent of the Southwest district, declared there was a shortage of young ministers who were willing to work in rural districts. A plea for ministers to fill a constantly increasing number of vacancies in his territory also was made by Rev. C. J. Bowen of Granville, district superintendent of the Southeast district.

Dr. John F. Herget of Cincinnati was among the scheduled speakers on tonight's program.

The conference is scheduled to close tomorrow with addresses by Rev. A. Stokes Watson of Zanesville, Rev. J. S. Baker of Springfield and several others.

Fields Inaugurated Governor of Kentucky; Promises to Keep Campaign Pledges

FRANKFORT, KY., Dec. 12.—Fields took the oath of office as governor of Kentucky here today and said as a servant he would carry into execution the will of the people. The induction of Gov. Fields into office again placed the Democratic party in control of Kentucky's state politics after an absence of four years. Edwin P. Morrow is the retiring governor.

Standing bareheaded before thousands of people massed in front of the state capitol to hear his inaugural address, Gov. Fields said in part that he would live up to the pledges made by his party during the gubernatorial campaign which included advancement of Kentucky in the educational field, an adequate transportation program, an equitable taxation system, development of the state's natural resources, a system of co-operative marketing for agricultural products and rigid enforcement of the laws.

Children Most Important Crop of the Farm

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—Children are the most important crop of the farm, even though it is a crop that is raised but once in a generation, Mrs. W. H. Lawrence of Monteville, O., director at large of the American Farm Bureau Federation, declared at the annual meeting of the organization here today.

"Too large a share has gone into the world's market," said Mrs. Lawrence, "but at last we realize how much a stable rural life in the future is dependent upon our being able to keep some of those farm-raised boys and girls with us. And if we are going to keep our share of them, there must be something to rural life which appeals to them. The city with its music, with its bright lights and social activities is luring our children from us just as the Pied Piper of Hamelin lured the children up into the mountains. Those children never came back and not many of our children come back.

"We must develop a counter attraction in rural communities, a rural spirit that will appeal to rural children that nothing can charm them away."

Kentucky 'Prison Siege' Case Still In Hands Of Jury

EDDYVILLE, KY., Dec. 12.—After deliberating two hours a jury which heard the trial in circuit court here of Mrs. Lillian Walters, widow of the reputed leader of the attempted prison break which led to October, who is charged with having been an accessory before the act to the murder of three prison guards, was locked up for the night. In summing up the case for the state the commonwealth's attorney asked that the death penalty be imposed.

The state based its charge on allegations that Mrs. Walters was the leader in a plot by which pistols and ammunition were smuggled into the prison to her husband and his two companions, Harry Eerland and Lawrence Griffith. Walters and his companions were found dead when a barricaded prison mess hall was entered after a four-day siege.

Defense counsel, asked for acquittal on the ground that Walters, whose personality it was asserted was so vivid that its influence "still was felt within the walls of Eddyville prison," was able to control the will and direct the actions of the defendant.

Property of Girl Awarded To Child By High Tribunal

COLUMBUS, Dec. 12.—Reversing the lower courts of Licking county, the state supreme court today held that Richard P. Sparks of St. Louisville, O., an uncle of Miss Agnes Anderson and the beneficiary under an insurance policy carried by her in the relief department of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad where she was employed at Newark, has no title in real estate left by her, but that the property goes to a child born to her. Miss Anderson died at the time of the child's birth.

Miss Anderson had purchased property, giving a mortgage for $2,500 on it and pledging payment of the mortgage with her insurance policy for like amount. Sparks subrogated his beneficiary claim under the policy to the holder of the mortgage. In settling the estate after satisfaction of the mortgage, the question arose as to whether title to the property vested in the child or in the uncle.

In denying the uncle's claim, the supreme court held that subrogation based upon contract must stand or fall by the law applicable to contracts and must be supported by a consideration. Sparks, the court held, had no consideration in the transaction.

$9,000 FIRE AT THE N. AND W. TERMINALS

Fire, supposed to have been caused by sparks flying from a generator, in the southeast corner of the building, burned about 150 feet of roof from the erecting shop building at the N. and W. terminals. East Portsmouth caused damage to several engines and an electric crane in the building, the total loss being estimated at about $9,000. Fifty men were thrown out of work today, but were ordered to report for duty as usual Thursday. They can work in the building during fair weather without the roof and work will be started at once on the rebuilding job.

The erecting shop is a long brick structure located just south of the general division office building, a distance of about 100 feet separating the two structures. It is of brick and steel construction with steel roof supports. The only frame work in the building, carrying the rubberoid roof, burning timbers from the roof fell on engines in the shop for repair and some damage was done to these.

No workmen are employed in the erecting shop on night turn and the fire gained considerable headway before it was discovered. The spot where the generator was located was under a frame structure that housed the office of that shop. The frame work was soon consumed by the flames which easily communicated to the roof. The entire southeast corner was ablaze when the fire was discovered and considerable of the roof was alive when the first water was turned on from lines run from temporary hose houses in the yards near the shop building.

Fire alarms brought the East End and New Boston firemen and each company soon had one stream playing on the flames. The nearest city plug was about 1,500 feet away at Norfolk and Walnut street and a number of sections had to be joined together before city water could be gotten near the burning building.

The fire alarm was sent in at 8:25 and the firemen were on the job until after 7:30 this morning.

Workmen were put on the job at once clearing away the partially burned roof so that repairs may be started at once. While work was

BOY ACCIDENTALLY KILLS HIS BROTHER

Guilford Martin Stidham, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stidham of Scioto Furnace, was standing in the kitchen doorway of his home about 2:30 Tuesday afternoon when he was accidentally shot and killed by the full charge from a shot-gun in the hands of his elder brother, Haskell, 16, who was only about 30 feet from the kitchen door. Corner Virgil Fowler went to the scene of the accident late Tuesday afternoon and after an investigation gave "accidental shooting" as his verdict.

The investigation disclosed that Haskell Stidham had taken his father's shotgun out to kill a hawk and that after firing once had returned the single barrel gun and reloaded towards the house. He was breaking the gun down to take out the cartridge when he accidentally touched the trigger. The shot tore its way into the younger brother's abdomen and thigh, the intestines being perforated and the bladder punctured by the small shot.

The grandfather was standing in the kitchen with his back to the door and he had narrow escape from being struck by some of the small shot. The mother ran to the rear of the house when she heard the report of the gun and she picked up her little son and carried him to a lounge, where he expired before Dr. J. S. Stevens of South Webster arrived.

The accident victim had pleaded with his mother yesterday to be allowed to go to school, but as he was not yet six years of age his mother told him to wait until after the first of the year. The child would have been six years of age December 18.

Ed Sims, a neighbor, was among the first persons outside of the family to reach the boy's side. He was examined as a witness at the inquest held at the home yesterday by Coroner Fowler. The brother who discharged the gun was examined by the Coroner and it was found that he is of a highly nervous temperament and his nervousness might have caused him to accidentally touch the trigger of the gun.

The parents, Charles and Cora Stidham, have twelve other children. They are Haskell, Patrick, Thurston, Lorena, Lucy, Lolo, Anna, Allie, Pearl, Charles, Clarence, Willa and Mae. The father is a clay miner working near Geopark.

About a year ago the family suffered a high loss when their home and contents were destroyed by fire at Scioto Furnace.

The funeral services are to be held Thursday with burial in Vernon cemetery.

Simple Exercises Mark Breaking of Ground For the New Hurth Hotel

Little Alan Hurth, six-year-old son of Adolph Hurth, Jr., turned the first spadeful of earth for the new Hurth Hotel at Third and Chilli-cothe streets yesterday afternoon. The freshly turned earth was passed to Mayor-elect Ralph Calvert, who dedicated the work.

The simple exercises which marked turning of the first spadeful of dirt for the new project, had been arranged by Adolph Hurth, Jr., head of the company building the hotel, when it was learned that the long-avalued steam shovel of the S. Monroe and Sons Co., which has been occupied by the Greek bridge for the A-P highway was at last on its way, and would reach the hotel site at about four o'clock.

As it backed into position and blew its whistle an American flag was unfurled on the lot and Robert G. Bryan, head of the Ohio State Co., stepped forward as chairman, on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce. A few words, he commended the hotel project as being in answer to the city's greatest commercial need, and introduced Mayor-elect Calvert, who spoke on the same theme.

Manager Adam Frick of the Chamber of Commerce, who has been active in support of the project commended Mr. Hurth and his plans for the new hotel, pointing out that with the more adequate hotel facilities provided for business visitors, commercial interests will be more attracted to Portsmouth, and the city given a greater opportunity to live up to its slogan, "Where Prosperity Begins."

As he spoke, Mr. Frick turned and shaking hands with Mr. Hurth, congratulated him for the civic aid he has given by pushing across the hotel project against many obstacles.

Mr. Hurth then thanked the speakers and the people of Portsmouth, for the aid they have given him and expressed his hope of serving them by attracting business visitors here.

Arthur L. Hannon of the Citizens Savings and Loan Association Co., and William Hazelbeck of the Royal Savings and Loan Co., appeared at the exercises on behalf of the banking interests of the city; Ralph Martindale, attorney at law, representing the Hurth family, and George W. Woodward for the Retail Merchants' Association. Thomas D. Smith and Mr. Hurth for the hotel company, and Edwin L. Stump, assistant secretary of the Real Estate Board, for his organization and the realty interests of the city.

Work of excavating for the foundations and basement of the hotel was started this morning.

Labor Opposed To Coalition

LONDON, December 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—The executive board of the Labor party issued a communique this afternoon saying it had decided in the event of Labor being invited to form a government that the parliamentary party should immediately accept the full responsibility of the government of the country without compromising itself with any form of coalition.

Can't Stop Joint-Ease

"You can't stop people from buying Joint-Ease for sore throat and cold in chest," writes one of our druggist friends. "They say it's the best ever."

We know that, of course, but please remember that Joint-Ease is for stiff, swollen, painful joints, whether rheumatic or not, and its tremendous sale for that purpose proves that it is one joint remedy that gets the most satisfying results.

A tube costs 60 cents at Fisher and Streich's pharmacy and druggists everywhere. Just rub it on and in a few seconds it relieves completely under the skin, and relief follows instantly.—Advertisement.

Patrolman Foils Bandit Holdup

CLEVELAND, O., December 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Police today are watching hospitals and checking physicians' offices for trace of a bandit believed to have been wounded when he and a companion tried to hold up Patrolman Earl Meekes, who was walking home from a piano store last night. The bandit held a revolver against the policeman and ordered him to hand over his money.

"All right," Meekes answered. "Here's my pocket book."

As he spoke he reached for his hip pocket, ostensibly for his pocket book, but drew his revolver and twisting around, fired simultaneously with both barrels. In an exchange of half a dozen shots, the robbers fled. Meekes believes he hit one.

150 Motor Bus Operators Get Permits

COLUMBUS, Dec. 12.—Approximately 150 motor bus operators were granted certificates to operate by the state public utilities commission today in the first wholesale action by the commission on this class of transportation. Forty applications previously had been granted.

Applications granted were to companies which already were in operation on April 28, the day the motor bus license law became operative. This class of operators were required only to file affidavits that they were operating in good faith on that day. In case protests are made against the granting of the certificates, the commission then will set the cases down for hearing and render decision.

None Since April 28.

No applications for the starting of new bus lines since April 28 have yet been acted upon by the commission though a number of hearings have been held. The applicant is required to show that the operation of a bus line along a particular route is a necessity and convenience to the public.

Up to date approximately 1,100 affidavits and applications have been filed, about one-fifth of this number being applications to inaugurate new service. The commission estimates that there probably are more bus lines operating, the proprietors of which do not know of the existence of the motor bus law or are living in hope that they will not be molested for operating without licenses. These will have to be hunted down by inspectors.

Estimated Receipts.

The estimated annual receipts to the state from the operations of the motor bus law are placed by the commission at a million dollars. The average license costs $100.25.

Tomorrow the hearing of 68 operators of the applications of bus lines in Youngstown. The city has protested against granting licenses to them.

WHEAT SHOWS MODERATE GAINS

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—Owing largely to a better outlook for settlement of German reparations and for stabilizing conditions in Europe, wheat showed a moderate gain in prices today during

OBITUARY

J. H. Farmer

Regret was expressed in all sections of the city Tuesday evening when it was learned that J. H. Farmer, one of the city's best known and most highly regarded residents had passed away at his home, 1830 Highland avenue. While he had not been in the best of health he was able to get around and look after his business affairs. He was taken ill at 10 a. m. Tuesday and later he apparently rallied, but suffered another sinking spell at 1:45 p. m. when he died in his death. Cerebral hemorrhage was given as the immediate cause of death.

Mr. Farmer had for years been one of the most loyal boosters in the East End and his passing away will be especially regretted in that section. He was a man of good judgment and always profited at the things for the East End. He was pleasant and affable at all times, honest as the day is long and a splendid, law-abiding citizen passed away when he was claimed by death almost without warning. Mr. Farmer was about 55 years old, but was unusually active for one past the allotted three score and ten. He was hale and vigorous until taken suddenly ill. His death came as a shock to his countless friends.

Mr. Farmer came here about 25 years ago from Haverhill, where he had continued a store. For many years he had been here, he personally conducted his store on Gallia street near Broadway, and was one of the best-known retail business men in the city.

He was a member of the Blue Lodge of the Masonic order at Ironton, and of the Trinity M. E. church, here.

The widow, who was Miss Naomi Wilkins of New Russell, Ky., survives as do four daughters, Mrs. E. Hoyer, Mrs. Verlie Sheenaker, 1832 Highland avenue, Misses Sadie and Elizabeth at Long, and one son, Henry, of Detroit. Funeral services probably will be held Friday, but no definite hour has been fixed. Friends may view the body any time Thursday. Owing to the illness of Miss Sadie Farmer the funeral services will be strictly private. Interment will be in Greenwood.

Mrs. Lucy Miller Clark

Last rites for Mrs. Lucy Miller Clark will be conducted from the Miller home, 127 Fourth street, at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The services will be in charge of Rev. S. Lindemeyer, followed by interment in Greenwood.

Roy Clinton Holback

Roy C. Holback, 42 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holback of Effort, died at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning at Schirman hospital, where he was taken in a serious condition, suffering with membranous croup Sunday night. His mother stayed with him constantly, and was with her son when the child passed away. Besides the grief-stricken parents, two brothers, Arthur, and four sisters, Alice, 33; Dorothy, 9; Ruth, 6; and Audrey, 4, survive.

The body was taken to Effort this morning, and services will be conducted there from the home. Interment will be at South Webster Thursday.

Funeral Thursday. The body of Dennis O'Mara, five and a half year old son of Mrs. Margaret O'Mara of Ninth street, who was fatally injured when struck and knocked down by a truck Monday afternoon in Jackson, arrived here last night and was removed to the Richards undertaking parlor. The body was taken to the Lovell Dixon home, 1209 Ninth street, this afternoon, and funeral services will be conducted from there. Burial in Wheelersburg cemetery.

Funeral of Miss Clark. The body of Miss Martha Clark, who died in Columbia, arrived here Wednesday noon and was taken to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Clark, 2337 Vinton avenue. Miss Clark died of complications following an operation for appendicitis she underwent several months ago.

Funeral services will be held at the Episcopal M. E. Church Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, with Rev. G. H. Weaver in charge. Burial will be in Lucasville cemetery.

Mrs. William Rupert. The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Rupert, 72, wife of William Rupert, Sr., who passed away Friday after a lingering illness from blood poisoning that came from an infected foot. Mrs. Rupert many years ago resided in Jackson county and also visited here in the past few years, being a relative of the Robinson and Rupert families of this city.

She was a devout member of the Methodist church South and the funeral was preached by a minister of that church, the interment being in the old Knob family cemetery that overlooks the rich acres of the Rupert estate that lies north of the town.

Mrs. Rupert is survived by her husband, the county's leading farmer, two sons and a daughter, Mrs. Walter Sanders and Edward of Grayson, Ky., and William H. Rupert, proprietor of the Imperial Mills at Portsmouth. She was known in that section for her many good deeds and her friends were legion.—Wellston Sentinel.

Mrs. Samuel Pyle

Death about six o'clock this morning claimed Mrs. Mary Allen Pyle, beloved wife of Samuel Pyle, final summons coming at her home on Fallen Timber after a long illness of tuberculosis.

Mrs. Pyle was formerly Mary Ellen McCain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis McCain, of Fallen Timber. She was well known in Lucasville and vicinity where she had spent all of her 21 years of life.

Surviving are the husband and parents.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning with burial in Jacobs cemetery.

Funeral For Mrs. Ward

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Ward, who dropped dead at her home on Buck Run near Lucasville Tuesday morning, will be held Thursday morning at ten o'clock from the home. Burial in Harger cemetery.

South Makes Strong Appeal

Senator Pepper, T. Coleman Dun-pont, of Delaware, and Southern

Committee members declared the National Convention representation should use the congressional district

as a unit as a matter of justice.

Every congressional district should have at least one delegate, they asserted. Joseph W. Tolbert, committee man for South Carolina, in the course of an impassioned address, declared that Southern Republicans were "just as good as Northern Republicans," and Mrs. Lindsay Polson of Winston-Salem, N. C., associate member, said she wished to see

President Coolidge elected and declared that she would not vote for a chance to build up a strong Republican party in the South," Mrs.

Patterson said, "Don't make it too hard for us."

Another resolution adopted today by the committee looks to equal rights and power in the National Committee for associate women members who now have no vote in committee proceedings. The resolution

by Hamilton F. Keen, of New Jersey, provides for a recommendation that the 1924 convention invest the association members so that the National Committee would be composed of one man and one woman member from each state and territory.

Buy Xmas Seals If You Want To Aid In Fighting Tuberculosis

Would you refuse to give a dime, a quarter, fifty cents, or a dollar to save the life of some one suffering from tuberculosis?

Would you give such an amount to help prevent innocent children from contracting this dread disease?

Of course you would when you think about the matter in that way. But did you ever stop to think that is just when the appeal to buy Christmas seals meant?

The money derived from the sale of Christmas seals goes to fight against tuberculosis.

The "Fresh Air" camp, where undernourished children spend a health-giving two weeks in the open, is financed through the sale of these seals locally. Tuberculosis cases in the community are cared for, the proper food furnished, etc., through the same agency. If you do not purchase your share of the seals, this work must suffer.

And how do you know that your family is going to be immune in the future? Tuberculosis has a treacherous way of creeping into even carefully guarded homes. No one seems to be exempt. The only safe way is to help stamp it out of the community as much as possible. The death rate in Ohio is going down steadily, and it is Christmas seal money that is behind the agencies bringing about this great benefit.

According to Chairman Russell K. McCurdy, of the Exchange Club committee, having the work in charge, the sale in Portsmouth is progressing at a fairly satisfactory rate, but many more sales must be made to bring about complete success. "The people of Portsmouth are treating us finely. I feel sure that the money necessary to carry on this work will be raised," said Mr. McCurdy today.

Doorbell ringing.

"Please, have you bought your Christmas seals?" This was repeated hundreds of times in Portsmouth yesterday, after the school children received their Christmas stamps at noon and started their selling campaign. And very few found it in their hearts to refuse to buy from the eager and enthusiastic young salesmen.

Rev. Gerald Culberson Suffers Broken Ankle Playing Volley Ball

Rev. Gerald Culberson, pastor of the First Christian church, will be laid up several weeks as the result of a broken right ankle sustained Tuesday afternoon while playing volleyball ball in the high school gym at the Midway's volleyball court. The big home the ankle was broken when he twisted his foot in making a splendid recovery and kill of a ball at the net in the first game against the Busy Men in Class C League.

Several players on the teams heard the home snare and when the minister fell to the floor crying with pain, they realized that the man's injury was a serious one. Dr. A. R. Moore was called and after applying a temporary splint, removed Rev. Culberson to the Mercy clinic where an X-ray was taken. The developed picture showed the big bone broken about three inches above the ankle and a fragment of the bone broken off. Fortunately the bone did not tear through the flesh.

The minister was then removed to his home and the fracture was reduced there. The ankle will be put in a plaster cast in a couple of days.

Gerald Culberson, Jr., who is home from Brooklyn Navy yard, was present at the game and saw his father injured.

A plan is being made to secure a minister to fill the pulpit of First Christian church temporarily.

Youth, Caught In Local Jewelry Store Confesses Numerous Robberies To Police

A 16-year-old youth, giving the name of John Schultz, captured in the rear of the Walter Wilhelm jewelry store, on Chillicothe street opposite Gallia esplanade, about midnight Tuesday, by Joseph Deckelman, watchmaker for Mr. W. J. Helms, has had considerable experience in robbing business places according to confessions he made to day to Sgt. Dan Miller, of the police force.

On being taken to the station last night by police, who were called to the store, the lad readily admitted he broke into the store with the intention of robbing it, and helped the officers by showing them where and how he got in and where he had slept back of the building until such time as he thought proper for the robbery.

Mr. Deckelman went into the store about midnight to put away diamonds and other valuables on of the display windows and show cases. As he entered the front door he noticed a shadow in the rear of the main business room, and on investigating discovered the youth crouched near the safe and Mr. Wilhelm's desk. The youth had his shoes off and later he explained to the officers that he took them off to move about with as little noise as possible.

The lad told officers he got in the city about 6 o'clock on an N. and W. freight train, coming here from Ashland and Trinton. He was en route to Cincinnati from Wheeling, where he once worked in a steel plant.

He says he spotted the Wilhelm store on his first visit into the business district, and deciding that it was a good place for a haul went around back of the building and went to sleep. He secured a heavy chair from a tool box belonging to Taylor and Lann, contractor on the Marling building, and with the chair broke open a lock on an iron grating that covered the back door. Then he broke a good-size hole in the glass of the door.

He told officers he did not intend to bother the safe, but expected to pick up some small articles and probably a little change as he was broke.

He claims to be an orphan and was sent to a state reformatory for a term.

A ring he was wearing did not bear his initials and he said it was stolen from Clarence Harlight, of Anderson, N. Y.

The youth will be taken before Judge N. B. Gilliland in juvenile court Thursday morning.

Kiwanians Elect Officers; Enjoy A Humorous Talk

If there is a Kiwanian in the city and he attended Wednesday's noon-day luncheon at the Mary Louise, he is in possession of enough optimism and cheer to last him through the holidays and on through 1924, the direct result of the splendid address given by Hugh Diamond, a native of Scotland, and now a resident of Canton, Ohio, where he is looked upon as one of the most successful business men in that section of Ohio. Mr. Diamond, who was introduced by his former neighbor, Rev. H. B. Bright, pastor of Bigelow Methodist church, made a pronounced hit with his wit which was all tempered with wisdom. In fact, his talk was one of the best ever heard by Kiwanians in this city, and his family will accompany him to the home Christmas eve, where a suitable program will be rendered, and then Santa will distribute the gifts.

Maurice A. Coe, treasurer, Frank E. Kiefer, district trustee; O. P. Tuttle, directors, W. B. Altman, R. H. Dillon, E. V. Leach, H. H. Higgins, George W. Freund, Roger Selby, L. W. Bragdon. The officers will take the helm in the first meeting of the new year.

The Kiwanians will again play Santa Claus to the kiddies of the Children's Home. Each child will write a letter to Santa, giving their name and age, and tell what present they want most. The Kiwanians will do the rest. A committee consisting of William Schwartz, O. D. Tatje, Edmund Krieger, Leo Krieger and "Doc" Wells was named to arrange a suitable program. Each Kiwanian and his family will accompany the gifts to the home Christmas eve, where a suitable program will be rendered, and then Santa will distribute the gifts.

Louis Wirth, of Cincinnati, was present as the guest of L. W. Bragdon and gave a short talk which was hugely enjoyed.

SOCIETY

A very charming wedding was solemnized in the parsonage of the Manly Methodist Episcopal church, this morning when Miss Irene Deitz, attractive young daughter of Mrs. Effie Deitz of 1654 Eleventh street, became the bride of Mr. Carl Conk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Conk of Sciotoville.

The ceremony took place at ten o'clock with Rev. P. A. Cross reading the impressive marriage service. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Raynor, of Sciotoville, a bride and groom of a few months.

Miss Deitz looked unusually lovely in her wedding gown of grey crepe, with harmonizing accessories and carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses. Mrs. Raynor wore an attractive costume of fawn colored point and a corsage of pink roses.

At twelve o'clock an elaborate bridal dinner of beautiful appointments was served at the home of the bride's mother on Eleventh street. The table decorations were of pink and white with a large white wedding cake forming the central adornment, and places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Carl Conk, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Raynor, Mrs. Effie Deitz, mother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Conk, and parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Conklin, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. Alva Daniels and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Wilder B. Gardner and small daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stumm and brothers-in-law and sisters of the bride, Mr. John Deitz and Mr. Raymond Conklin.

The members of the Ladies' Aid Society of Lucasville M. E. church will meet for their regular session and tea Thursday afternoon at Community Hall. All of the ladies of the community are cordially invited to attend. Members of Group 4 are hostesses of the occasion.

Liberty Class of Manly church will hold a passing party tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Stewart Ward of 1110 Clay street. All members are urged to be present and bring a gift not to exceed 25 cents. The election of officers for the new year will also be held at this time.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of Trinity church held an interesting meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. C. Wendelken, 1803 Highland avenue. A splendid report of the conference held recently at Lancaster was given by Mrs. Gus Ashcraft and after the business was dispensed with a most enjoyable program was given as follows:

Duet—"Silent Night, Holy Night" by Mrs. W. W. Robinson and Mrs. James Williams. Reading—"A Christmas Story" by Mrs. Lenora Allen. McCabe and a piano solo by Mrs. McCabe. Miss Nellie Allen recited two selections. Master Wilbur Crabtree rendered two piano solos. During the social hour Mrs. Wendelken and her assistants served a delicious ice course.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Don H. Wakefield of 1101 Eighteenth street announce the birth of an eleven pound son on Tuesday. Mr. Wakefield is head of the City Coal Company.

Sciotoville and Wheelersburg

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hall, of New Boston, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Cottle, in Meade, recently. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Jenkins, of Levan, also spent Tuesday with friends in Portsmouth.

Mrs. L. C. Evans, of Wilson avenue, and Mrs. A. Palmer, of Long Meadow, shopped in Portsmouth today.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Winebrenner of Portsmouth visited relatives and friends here recently. Mrs. James George will extend the hospitality of her home on Bonser avenue to the members of the Philathea class of the Berean Baptist church for a cottage party meeting on Friday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

Members of the Junior choir of the Berean Baptist church will meet at the church Saturday afternoon at 1:30 for choir practice. The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church will hold an oyster supper and banquet at the church tomorrow evening. The menu will consist of oysters, celery, shaw, pickles, pie in mode and coffee. The price will be 50 cents.

Miss Ruth Mann, of Portsmouth, was the guest Tuesday evening of Miss Mary Reed, of Linwood. Mrs. Charles Brown and daughters, Grace and Mary, of Linwood, shopped in Portsmouth Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Buckley, of Linwood, shopped in Portsmouth Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Adams and daughter Fay spent weekend with Mrs. Adams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jones, of Stockdale. Prayer meeting services and Bible study will be held at the Berean Baptist church at 7 o'clock. Members of the Berean Baptist choir are requested to meet at the church at 6 o'clock this evening to practice for the Christmas music.

Members of the Philathea class of the M. E. Sunday school will hold their regular "social whist" at the home of Miss Elvora Dold Friday evening. The annual passing party will be enjoyed at this meeting. All members are urged to be present. Mrs. George Koch will entertain the members of the Social club at her home tomorrow afternoon. The annual passing party will be an enjoyable feature of the meeting.

Members of the Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church will present Mr. Hugh Diamond, a humorist from Gallien, Ohio, at the high school auditorium Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Diamond is a well-known lecturer, entertainer and humorist, and a large crowd is anticipated.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Knorr, of Dogwood Ridge, were the guests of relatives in Minford recently.

Mrs. W. T. Engelson and family left Monday via motor for their future home in Owensburg, Ky. Mr. Engelson is employed on the government claim at that place.

Mrs. Freda Wade and Mrs. Geo. Preston transacted business in Portsmouth Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Conklin left this afternoon for Columbus where they will spend their honeymoon and upon their return they will take up their residence for the present with the bride's mother.

Mrs. Conklin until recently was employed with the Irving Drew Shoe Company and is a very charming and popular young woman. Mr. Conklin is a well known N. & W. hickman, running between Portsmouth and Williamson, W. Va.

The marriage of Miss Ethel Simmons Velle and Mr. Hyman Moore was solemnized at the parsonage of the Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon at half after 4 o'clock, with the pastor, Rev. L. C. Watts, officiating with the impressive ring ceremony.

The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Moore, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride, an attractive blond, was lovely in a dark blue suit, with gray accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses.

Mrs. Moore also wore a dark blue suit with corresponding accessories.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wells, of 1618 Tenth street, Portsmouth, and is popular with a wide circle of friends. Mr. Moore is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Moore and holds a responsible position with the Ironton Rod and Nail Mill.

At 6 o'clock an elegant dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Moore in the Fair Building. The table was beautifully decorated with flowers. For the present, Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside in the Fair Building, where they will be at home to their many friends.

Mrs. John Jones, of Rhodes avenue, and Mrs. Albert Swannigan, of Mrs. John Jones, of Rhodes avenue, were the dinner guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. William Williamson, of Seventh street, Portsmouth. Mr. and Mrs. Williamson also entertained at dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morrison, of McKees Rock, Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Phillips and son Ralph Lewis, of Cedar street, moved to Ironton recently and visited Mrs. Phillips' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Grandison have moved from Cedar street to their new home on Pine street, which they recently purchased from Thaw King.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Moore and daughter Edna and Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Moore (Ethel Simmons Velle), of Gallien avenue, spent Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wells, of Tenth street, Portsmouth.

Mrs. O. N. Pennington, of Rhodes avenue, who has been ill for some time, is getting along nicely.

Jacob Maple, of Stanton avenue, is recovering from an operation which he underwent at Hempstead Hospital recently.

Norma Charlene, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther James, of Rhodes avenue, is ill with whooping cough.

Mrs. Mary Wagner and Miss Elizabeth Schaefer, of Harvard street, Portsmouth, were the guests of the former's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wagner, of Ohio avenue.

Mrs. Margaret Giles, of Portsmouth spent Tuesday with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. Bendle, of Rhodes avenue, Tuesday.

Miss Elsie Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wagner, of Ohio avenue, who underwent a surgical operation at Hempstead hospital recently, has been removed home and is getting along nicely.

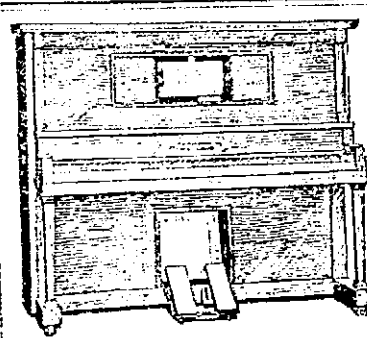

Mrs. Albert Wagner, of Ohio avenue, was a business visitor to Portsmouth today.

James Morrison has returned to his home in Saurau, after spending several days with relatives here.

SOCIETY

The marriage of Miss Ethel Simmons Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wells of 1016 Tenth street, and Mr. Hyman Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Moore of 1016 Tenth street, New Boston, was quietly solemnized Tuesday afternoon at half after four o'clock at the M. E. church with the pastor, Rev. L. C. Watts officiating with the simple ring service.

The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Moore, brother and sister-in-law of the groom. The bride who is an attractive blonde was attired in a dark blue suit with accessories of gray and carried a bouquet of white roses. Mrs. Moore was also attired in a dark blue suit and wore a corsage of pink and white flowers.

At six o'clock a sumptuous bridal dinner of lovely appointments was served in the attractive apartment of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Moore in the Fair building, Gallia avenue. The table was prettily arranged with pink and white flowers and greenery and places arranged for the immediate relatives of the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Moore will make their home for the present with Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Moore in the Fair building.

Supreme Lecturer To Visit Ben Hurs

At the regular meeting of the Loyal Order of Moose last night, announcement of plans to bring Frank Lutz, supreme lecturer of the order, to Portsmouth for an address in the near future, was made. It is hoped to have Mr. Lutz, who is a splendid speaker, appear here soon after the coming of the new year, and arrangements will probably be made to hold the meeting in the high school auditorium.

Vandals Damage Community Chest

Police were busy Wednesday making an effort to locate the vandals who broke several panels in the Community Chest on display in the Government Square. It was damaged several days ago by vandals and last night several panels were kicked out.

CHILD, MATCHES, FIRE

A child playing with matches in a clothes closet before the fire consumed a brick blaze at the home of Mrs. Lee Cyrus, 330 Second street, shortly after eleven o'clock Wednesday morning. Window curtains ignited from the matches lit by the child and the flames spread to the bed and the clothes closet.

Four Children Perish

LOOGHOOTER, IND., December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Four children of the family of William Fuhrman, a farmer living ten miles south of here, were burned to death late last night when their home was destroyed by fire. The dead are: Herman, 16; Wilbert, 13; Peter, 11, and Harold, 9. The father was severely burned while trying to rescue the children.

EVERS TO COACH WHITE SOX

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—(By the A. P.)—The National and American baseball leagues meet here today for their joint session with Commissioner K. M. Landis, severely confident that their session will be amiable, with none of the clashes at first predicted.

Seventeen proposed amendments to baseball rules are to be acted upon by the joint session of the two major leagues today.

A few deals were consummated during the sessions of major and minor leagues late yesterday and last night, with the signing of Johnny Evers as coach of the Chicago Americans for next season, and the sale of Carl Mays, right hand pitcher for the New York Yankees, to the Cincinnati Nationals, the most important. The price for Mays was said to be more than $100,000.

NEW CLUB ANNOUNCES ATTRACTIVE BOXING BILL FOR MONDAY NIGHT

The Sportsman's Athletic Club, which was recently formed in the city, will stage its first boxing show in Bassman's hall next Monday night, December 17. It will be an all star card and no doubt will be accorded liberal patronage.

Shirley Dando of this city, and Jimmy Perdue, the Huntington flag, will be the main features in a ten round card. Zip Valentine, a "Mama" fighter and Sash Roberts of Mansfield, will furnish the fireworks in the semi-main and other two bouts will bring De Price and Jack Major together, and George Alexander and Young Wilson in a six round bout.

MIAMI WILL PLAY MICHIGAN

OXFORD, Dec. 12.—Miami University football eleven will play the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, October 4, 1924. This will be the biggest game in Miami's history. George Little, coach of the Wolverines, formerly coached the Miami eleven.

Bennett Heads Minford Institute

Election of officers and a decision to hold another institute next year featured the closing sessions of the annual Farmers' Institute, held at the Minford High School auditorium Monday and Tuesday. The new officers are: Thomas H. Bennett, president; T. H. Kent, vice president; L. O. Allen, secretary; Mrs. Charles Holt, lady corresponding; George Shumway, F. C. White, Leon Snyder, executive committee.

The average attendance at this institute was 307, the largest of any institute ever held in this county. Tuesday afternoon in addition to the lectures by Miss Pearl Dorsey and Chester Strong the state speakers, County Farm Agent W. F. Gahn discussed "Experience in Pruning Apples," the subject which had been assigned to Lewis Lang, who was unable to be present. In the morning Mr. Gahn spoke, by request, on "Poultry." An added feature on the closing program was a talk by Assistant State Forester R. E. Leete, of Portsmouth, who spoke on "Invasion of Timber Lands." Prize winners in the poster contests, corn show, home-baking contest, bird house contest and candy-making contest will be announced in a few days.

Women of the community served sandwiches and the Ohio Valley Club for Campus, had coffee at the noon hour on both days of the meeting.

Dr. Seitz Home; Trial in January

Dr. William Seitz has returned from Cincinnati, where he appeared for arraignment in the U. S. Federal court on a charge of violating the Harrison Narcotic Laws. "I was unable to locate my bondsman Monday and that is the reason I failed to answer to my name when it was called out in the courtroom. I should have been there, but was so anxious to locate my bondsman that I decided I would wait until Tuesday to appear. Dr. Seitz said Wednesday that he was informed that his trial would take place the third week in January.

Beer Halls to Be Turned Into Kitchens

BERLIN, December 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Some of Berlin's old time beer halls as well as some of the city's jazz restaurants are to be taken over by the authorities and operated as feeding kitchens for the poor. A limited number of dance halls are to continue, but all who dance must pay a tax one gold mark or so for an evening's entertainment.

The funds raised by the tax are to be applied to charity. From the money thus derived it is estimated, food may be provided daily for some 35,000 persons.

Policeman Flowers Hurt

Charles "Tosey" Flowers, well known policeman in the East End, will hold duty several days as the result of an injured right eye lid. About four o'clock this morning when he was walking out of the rear door of the Terminal confectionery a step broke with him and caused him to fall about six feet. His eye lid was split and his head struck a post. Dr. W. W. Smith took three stitches in the eye lid.

Driver of Truck Fined

An arrest in connection with the accident on Gallia pike, Lawrence county, Monday night in which Andrew Johnson, North Moravia addition, was seriously injured due to his motor vehicle crashing into a parked truck, was made Tuesday morning by Deputy Sheriff Matt Wilson and Constable McKee of Ironton when they took Kenneth Whitten, driver of the Dahl Campbell truck into custody. They found Whitten endeavoring to start the motor of the truck when they visited the accident scene yesterday morning.

JUST SEEING THINGS

THAT indurated Republican organ, the New York Tribune, sees signs multiplying that public sentiment is drifting away from the bonus adventure. But, as a matter of fact, the Tribune sees more dimly than as through a glass, darkly. It does not see at all. Possibly, opposition to bonus is growing more active, which doesn't signify at all that it is getting more powerful.

Wherever a bonus proposition has been put up to the voters of a state it has carried; it will carry in any other state where it may be proposed.

That, however, isn't the important thing in regard to the matter. The key to the situation, so to speak, lies in congress. There is no indication there of any change. The average member is just as anxious as ever to maintain his seat. No signs are multiplying to his vision that that desirable consummation will be at all forwarded by voting against bonus. Right bravely and blithely he continues to vow he is back of the soldier boys in this adventure. It will take mighty strong lashing of the party whip, wielded by the president, to scourge him into line, and little hope for bonus opposition lies there, except a bare possibility in the senate.

You just simply can't guess 'em. It's winter, but women are buying more slippers and low cut shoes than ever.

Cincinnati is tremendously outraged because, at a meeting of Vic Donahay's non-law enforcers, she was held up to special scorn and reprobation for her non-observance. Wouldn't be puffed about a little thing like that. It's just a tribute of the taxpayers to her bigness. The little fellows think they add to their own stature by holding her up. Why, every other town is just as non-enforcing, according to size and all, the tax-seaters know that too.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. McINTYRE

(Special Correspondence)
MEXICO CITY, December 12.—In a little side street running off the Alameda is Dinky Moore's. It is a shining light for Americans and is the hang out for the smartest riffraff from the states. Most of the regular patrons are seeking relief for tubercular trouble.

The proprietor is a beady-eyed, scowling hombre from the Barbary Coast. He has a bent nose and a porcine pompadour. An Apache-like piano player with a red handkerchief at his throat thumps out popular tunes. The walls are covered with caricatures of prominent visitors.

Glued to the mirror are five dice in a row—all eyes. The high numbers were thrown one night by "Queen Jess"—a faded beauty from San Francisco, who drifted here doomed to die. One night, at closing time she asked for the dice box.

"If I have a chance for heaven the dice will show it," she said. She threw five aces the first throw and the next day they found her dead. Two scrawny girls sat on the bar telling of a debacle. The piano player's sweetheart, who might have stepped out of the old Bowery, slept in a chair at his side.

The place had not begun to fill when we arrived. There were side rooms with crude imitations of popular comic strips on the walls. The proprietor roughly objected to an American girl asking a member of our party for a cigarette. "This ain't no dump," he snarled.

The girl laughed—and then broke into a fit of coughing. There was sawdust on the floor—the fumes of stale beer and dead cigarette stumps. The gaiety as the crowds began to creep in was restrained. One felt that there was a port of missing men and women.

A young American boy with his coat collar turned up and his cap pulled down came in shaking from alcoholic excesses. It was long after midnight, but he was just up for the day. He drank four or five quick shots of whiskey and left a silver watch for payment. Then he departed. "The kid ain't got so far to go," said one of the party faced girls. "He'll soon be out of this rotten world."

The police here carry lanterns at night. The lantern is the law. You see the lanterns at every mid-town street corner and mostly the policeman is asleep in some doorway. You may talk back to the officer, but touch his lantern and you go to jail. There are no patrol wagons. Patrolmen are walked to prison. They told me of an American who came down here once on a spree and in a prankish moment gathered up 32 police lanterns and took them to his hotel.

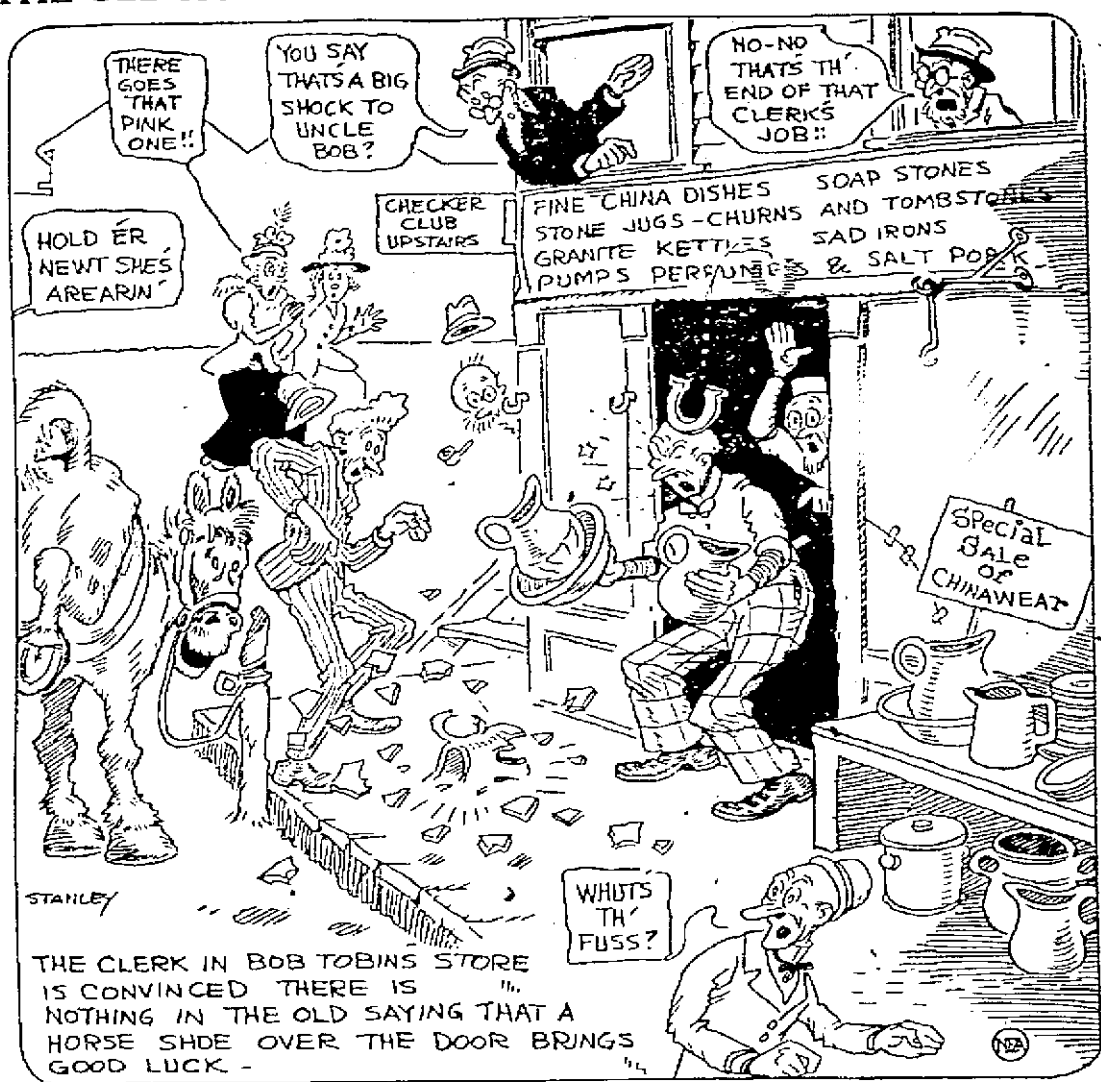

One of the most delightful breakfasts was had at the Cafe Cologne, on the Paseo de la Reforma. It was a sunshiny morning. The cafe is glass enclosed. In the light atmosphere peculiar to Mexico was the perfume of fragrant flowers. More than 50 rocking birds in cages about the veranda trilled their dulcet notes. Yet, outside, newshoys were crying their extra. Someone had been kidnapped and assassinated. A new political upheaval was brewing.

At the noon hour, just before all the stores and shops close for the siesta, the streets are filled with vendors of luncheon food. Clerks patronize them generously. They may buy an appetizer from one, a sandwich from another and a soft drink from the third. The vendors are filthy in appearance, but it is noticeable the containers for their foods are spotlessly clean.

The amusing little carryalls with perhaps a big horse and a tiny mule offer the poor wife an opportunity to go to market with some show of splendor. The carryalls are four wheeled with a half canopy, two and one may ride all over town for ten cents. The drivers are hard looking brigands who sleep all the time they are not carrying a fare. THE SOVEREIGN POET

He sits above the clang and dust of Time,
With the world's secret trembling on his lip
He asks not converse or companionship
In the cold starlight where thou canst not climb.

The undelivered tidings in his breast
Suffer him not to rest.
He sees afar the immemorable throne,
And binds the scattered ages with a song.

The glorious riddle of his rhythmic breath,
His might, his spell, we know not what they be;

Special Stepped Along
The special train on the Norfolk
& Western which carried the players of the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra to Portsmouth made an exceptionally fast run, covering the 100 miles in less than three hours, or 2 hours and 50 minutes, to be exact.

The train, which was in charge of
E. W. Getz, road foreman of engines of this city, left the Queen City at 12:34 and the special rolled into the local station at 3:25 p. m.
Monday. The crew of the train was composed of Engineer E. F. Hill and Firemen Frank Theiss and Conductor H. E. Reed.

The musicians, who were whisked back to the Queen City Tuesday on a special train after the concert, were loud in their praise of the manner in which their train was hauled.
